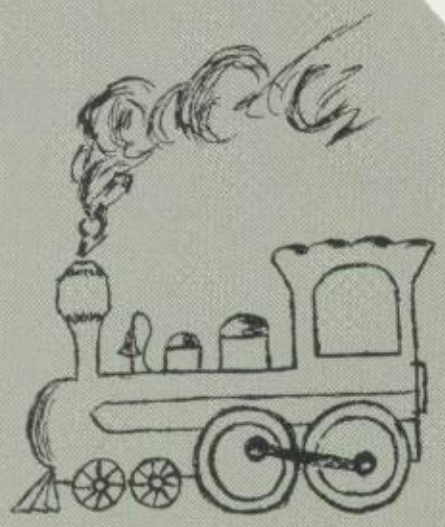
DEDICATION

To St. Mary's Parish for all it has done for the students of St. Mary's High - to the parents for their wisdom in sending their children where they would learn the fundamentals of knowledge along with the love of their Creator, - do we address this annual.

Many buildings have gone up within the parish these last years through the capable hands of Father Joseph Berberich, our pastor. A church, high school, grade school, and convent are the buildings which now aid the Sisters in their fruitful work. In the making are a gym and several outdoor sports facilities, of which we are very proud.

For these things do we give thanks.



FOREWORD

Life is a series of journeys, of progressions from one place to another. One such journey is the trip from childhood to adulthood.

Perhaps the most important phase of life during this journey is our school life. By imparting knowledge to our minds, and by affording us an opportunity to meet other people, school carries us along the road to maturity. School is one means of reaching our goal, success, which at St. Mary's means reaching our final destination, heaven.

Of the many methods of transportation--cars, boats, planes, carriages, and bicycles are but a few--the one used most frequently in American history is trains.

So too, our school can be said to carry merchandise, for by it knowledge is transported from the teacher to the students, passengers along the tracks of life to their last goal, heaven.

We, the members of the 1963 Annual Staff, invite you to follow our train of thought through these pages of your yearbook, Mater Dei.

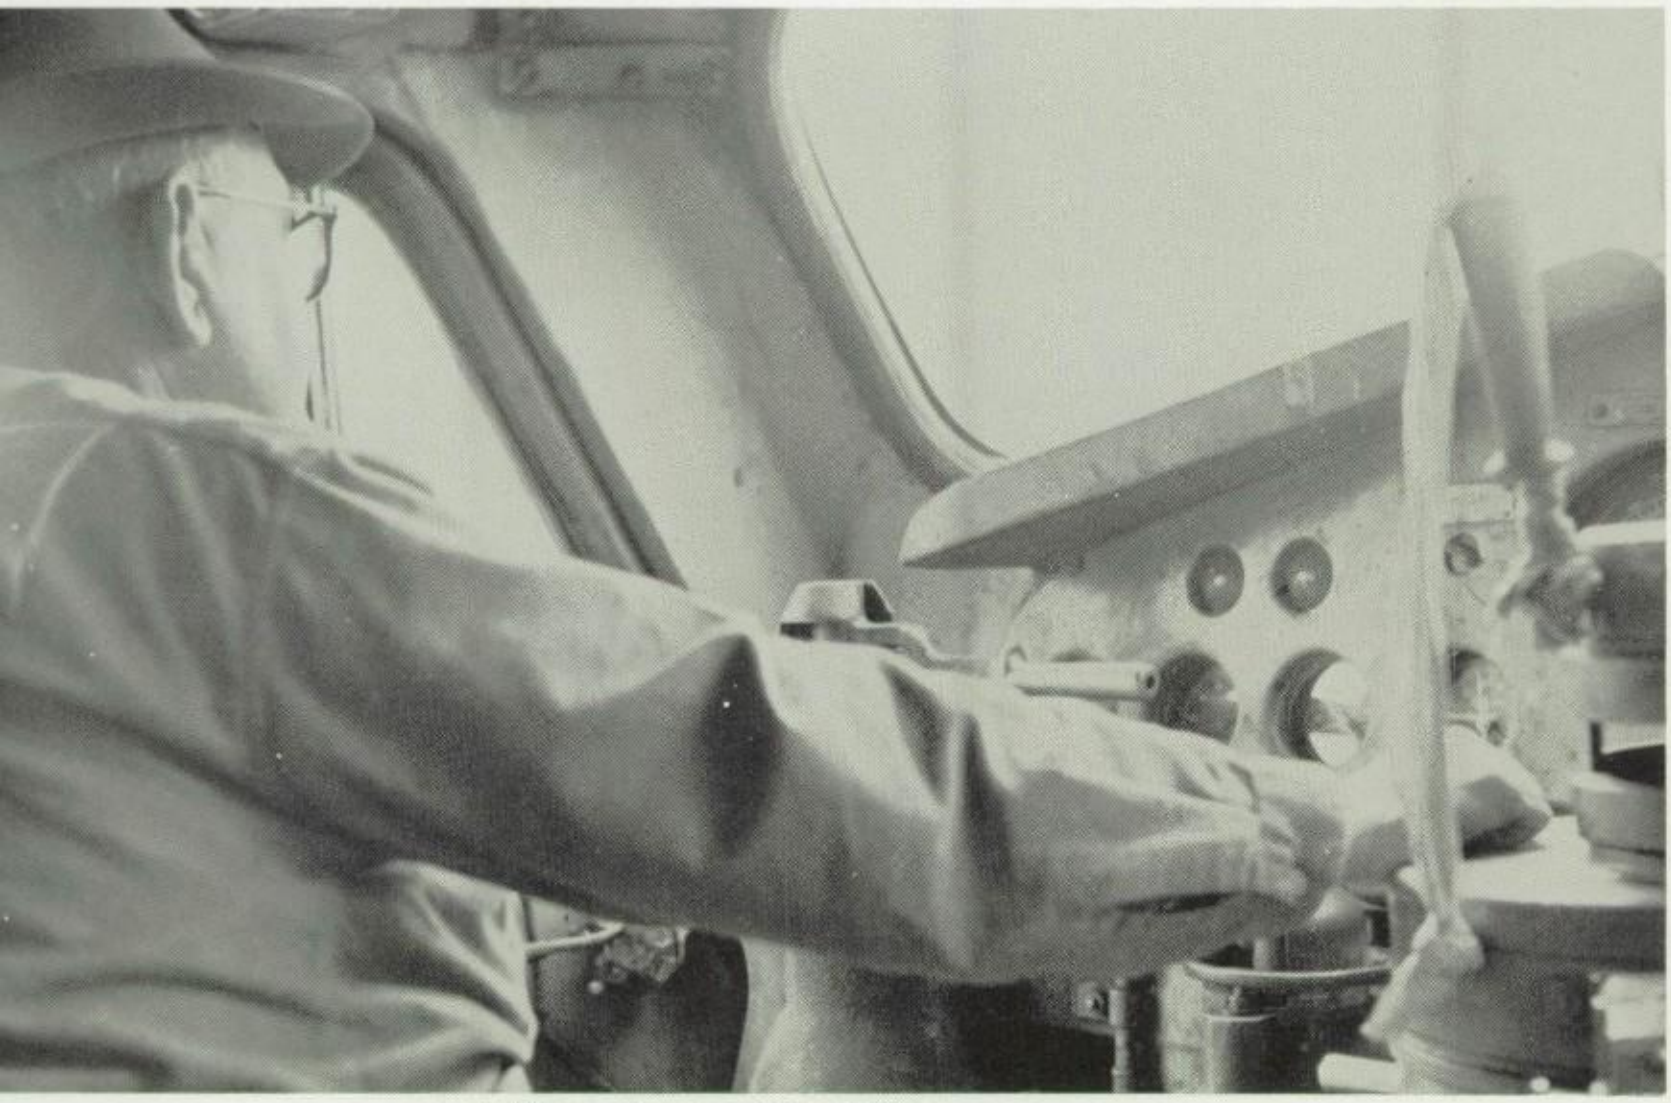
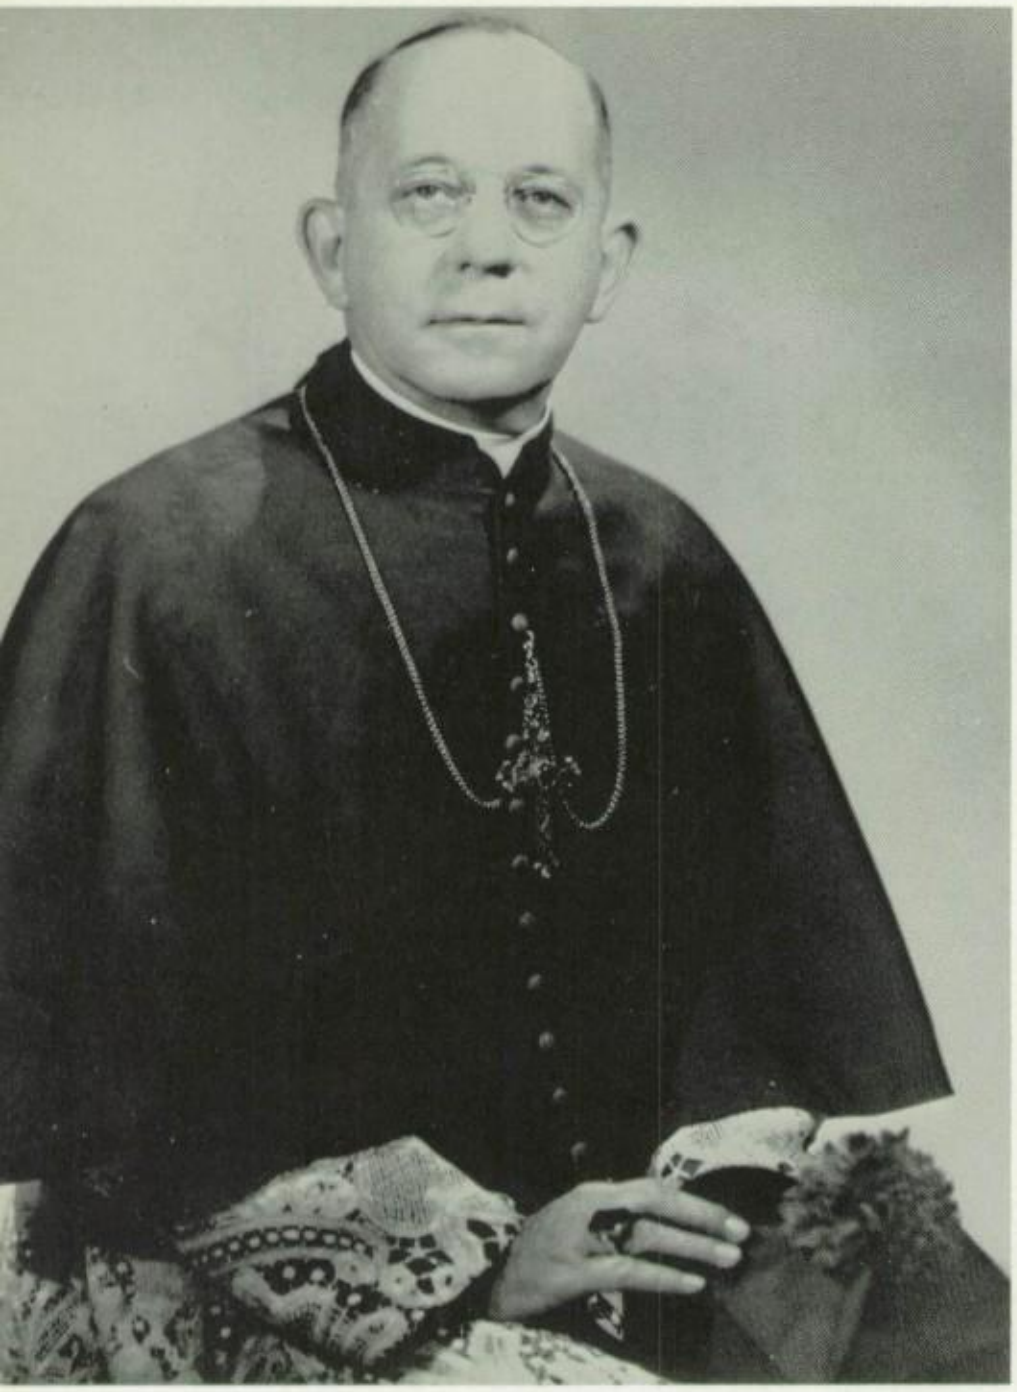
ADMINISTRATION



After it is built and made ready for operation, a train needs someone to see that it functions properly and to guide it to its destination. That someone is the engineer.

So it is at school. The students cannot learn by themselves, or provide the mature and capable leadership required for the running of the school. It is the faculty, composed of individual teachers, who must aid in these tasks of learning.

Here at St. Mary's, we, the students feel that we have the best leadership possible. It is our teachers who guide us through the journeys of this life to our final destination, heaven.

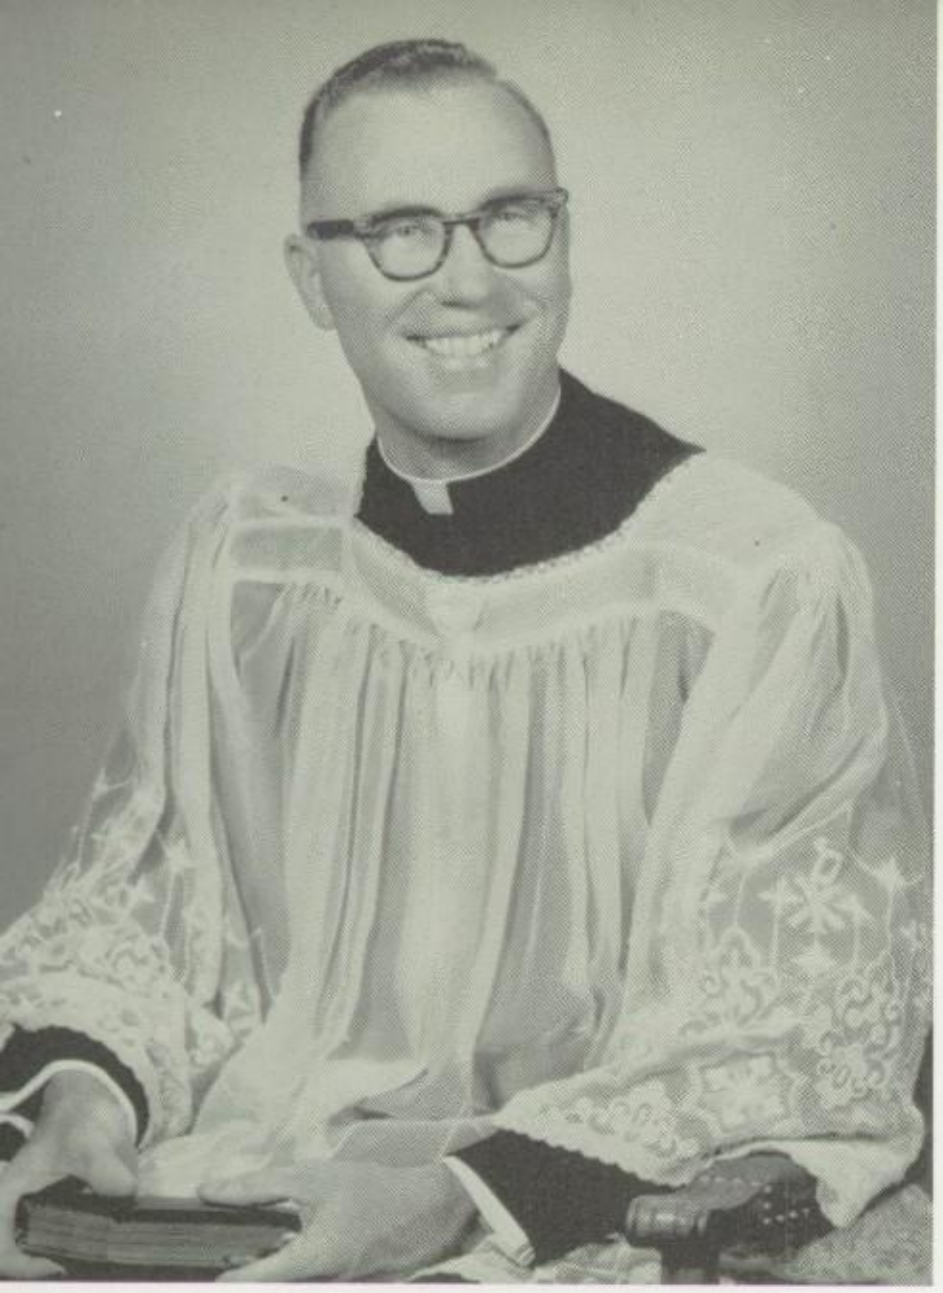


THESE ARE OUR GUIDES, COUNSELORS, LEADERS

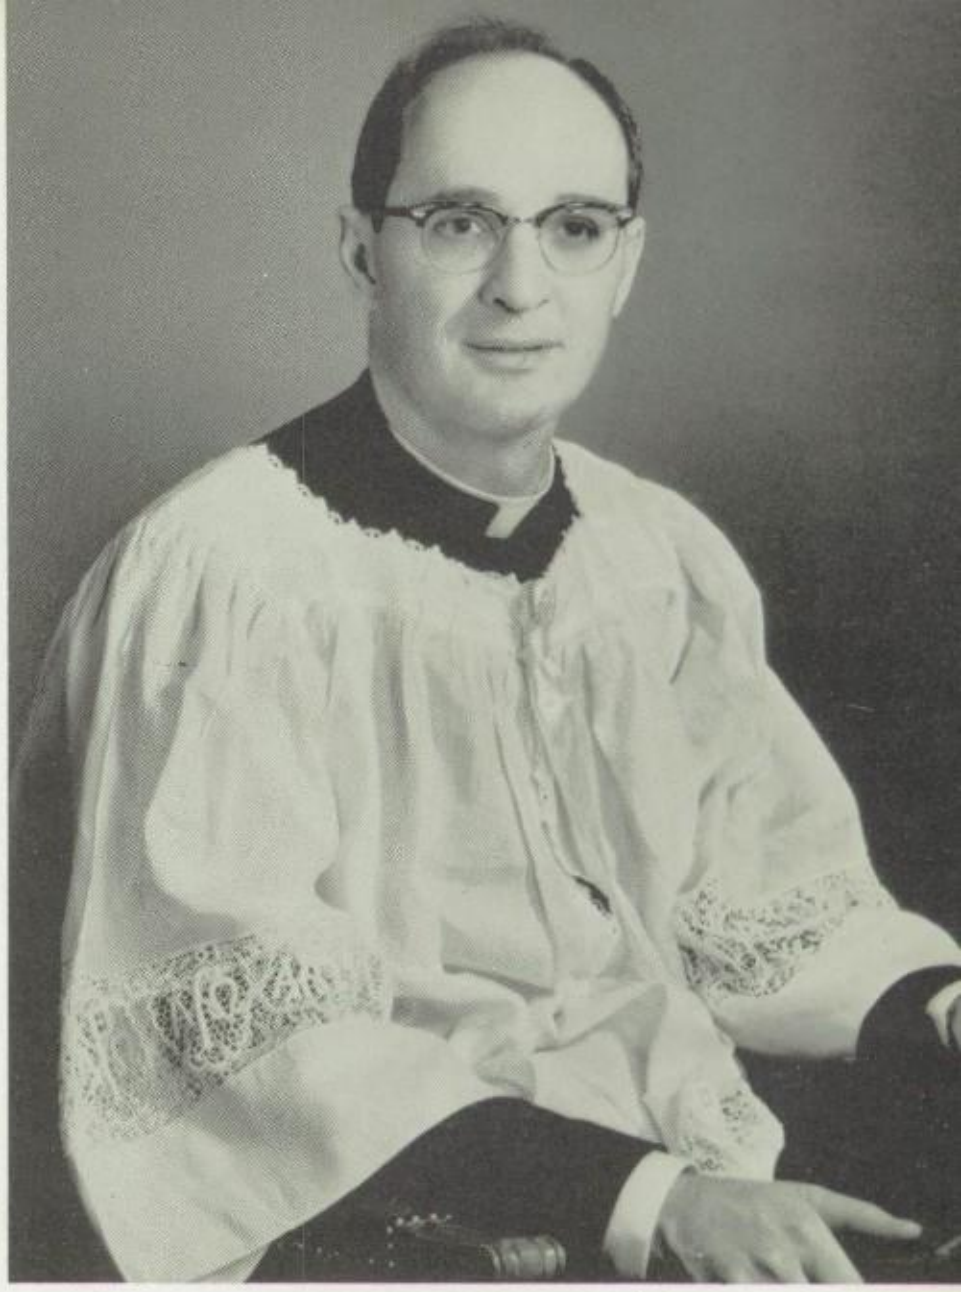
MOST REVEREND W. J. NOLD, S.T.D.,
Bishop of Galveston-Houston.

Our priests are an integral part of our school, participating wholeheartedly in all school functions and activities, from the first Mass in September to the conferring of diplomas in May.

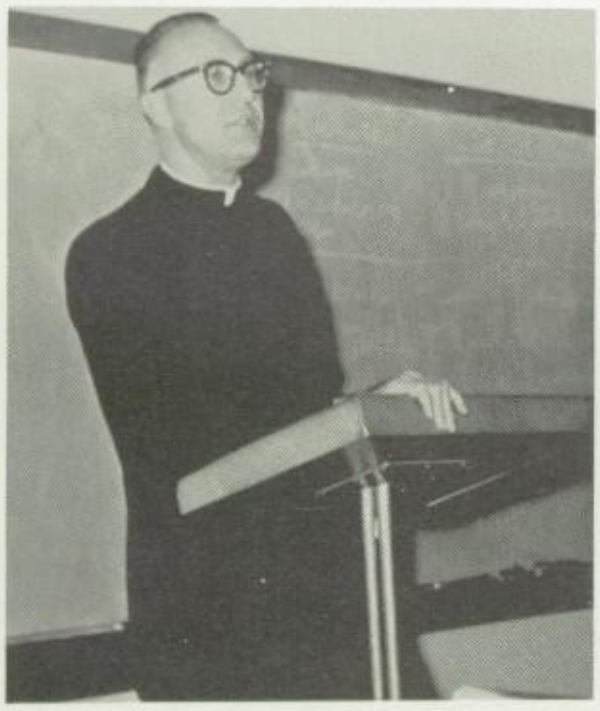
REVEREND JOSEPH O. BERBERICH,
Pastor of St. Mary's Church.



REVEREND CHARLES BURNS
Assistant

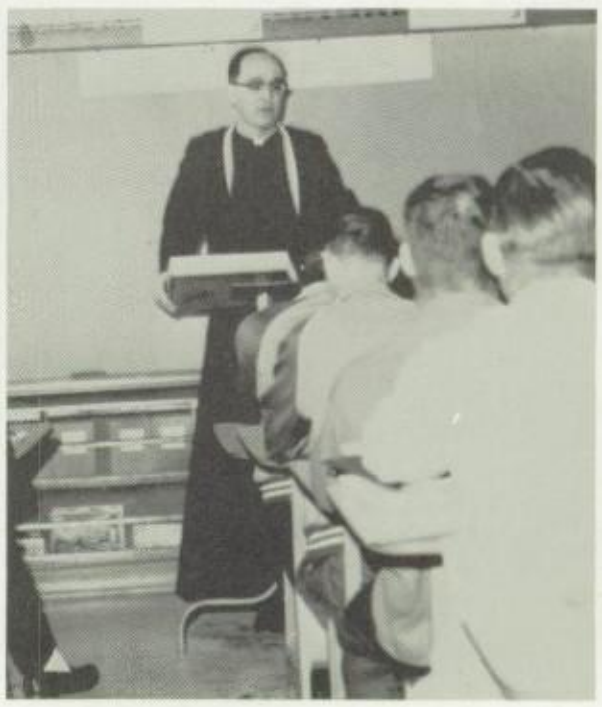


REVEREND DONALD STARKEY
Assistant



Father Burns gives an hour of his time twice a week to instruct the Juniors in religion.

Father Joe is helping the parents chaperon a school sponsored dance.



Father Starkey talks to the Seniors about marriage.

THE STUDENT COUNCIL SPARKS ACTIVITIES

Student Body President Pat Clark makes an announcement over the intercom system.

St. Mary's Student Council, member of both the Texas and National Associations of Student Councils, coordinates activities within the school, initiating and carrying through various group projects of the student body. Through its efforts St. Mary's athletic, cultural and scholastic programs are enlivened as they become part of student life.

STUDENT COUNCIL IN ACTION

At the Twirp Dance sponsored by the Student Council Sam Lucia was crowned king; Tommy Riedmuller and Pat Clark were chosen as princes.

Chase Kanfield provided the entertainment for the dance following the Homecoming Game.

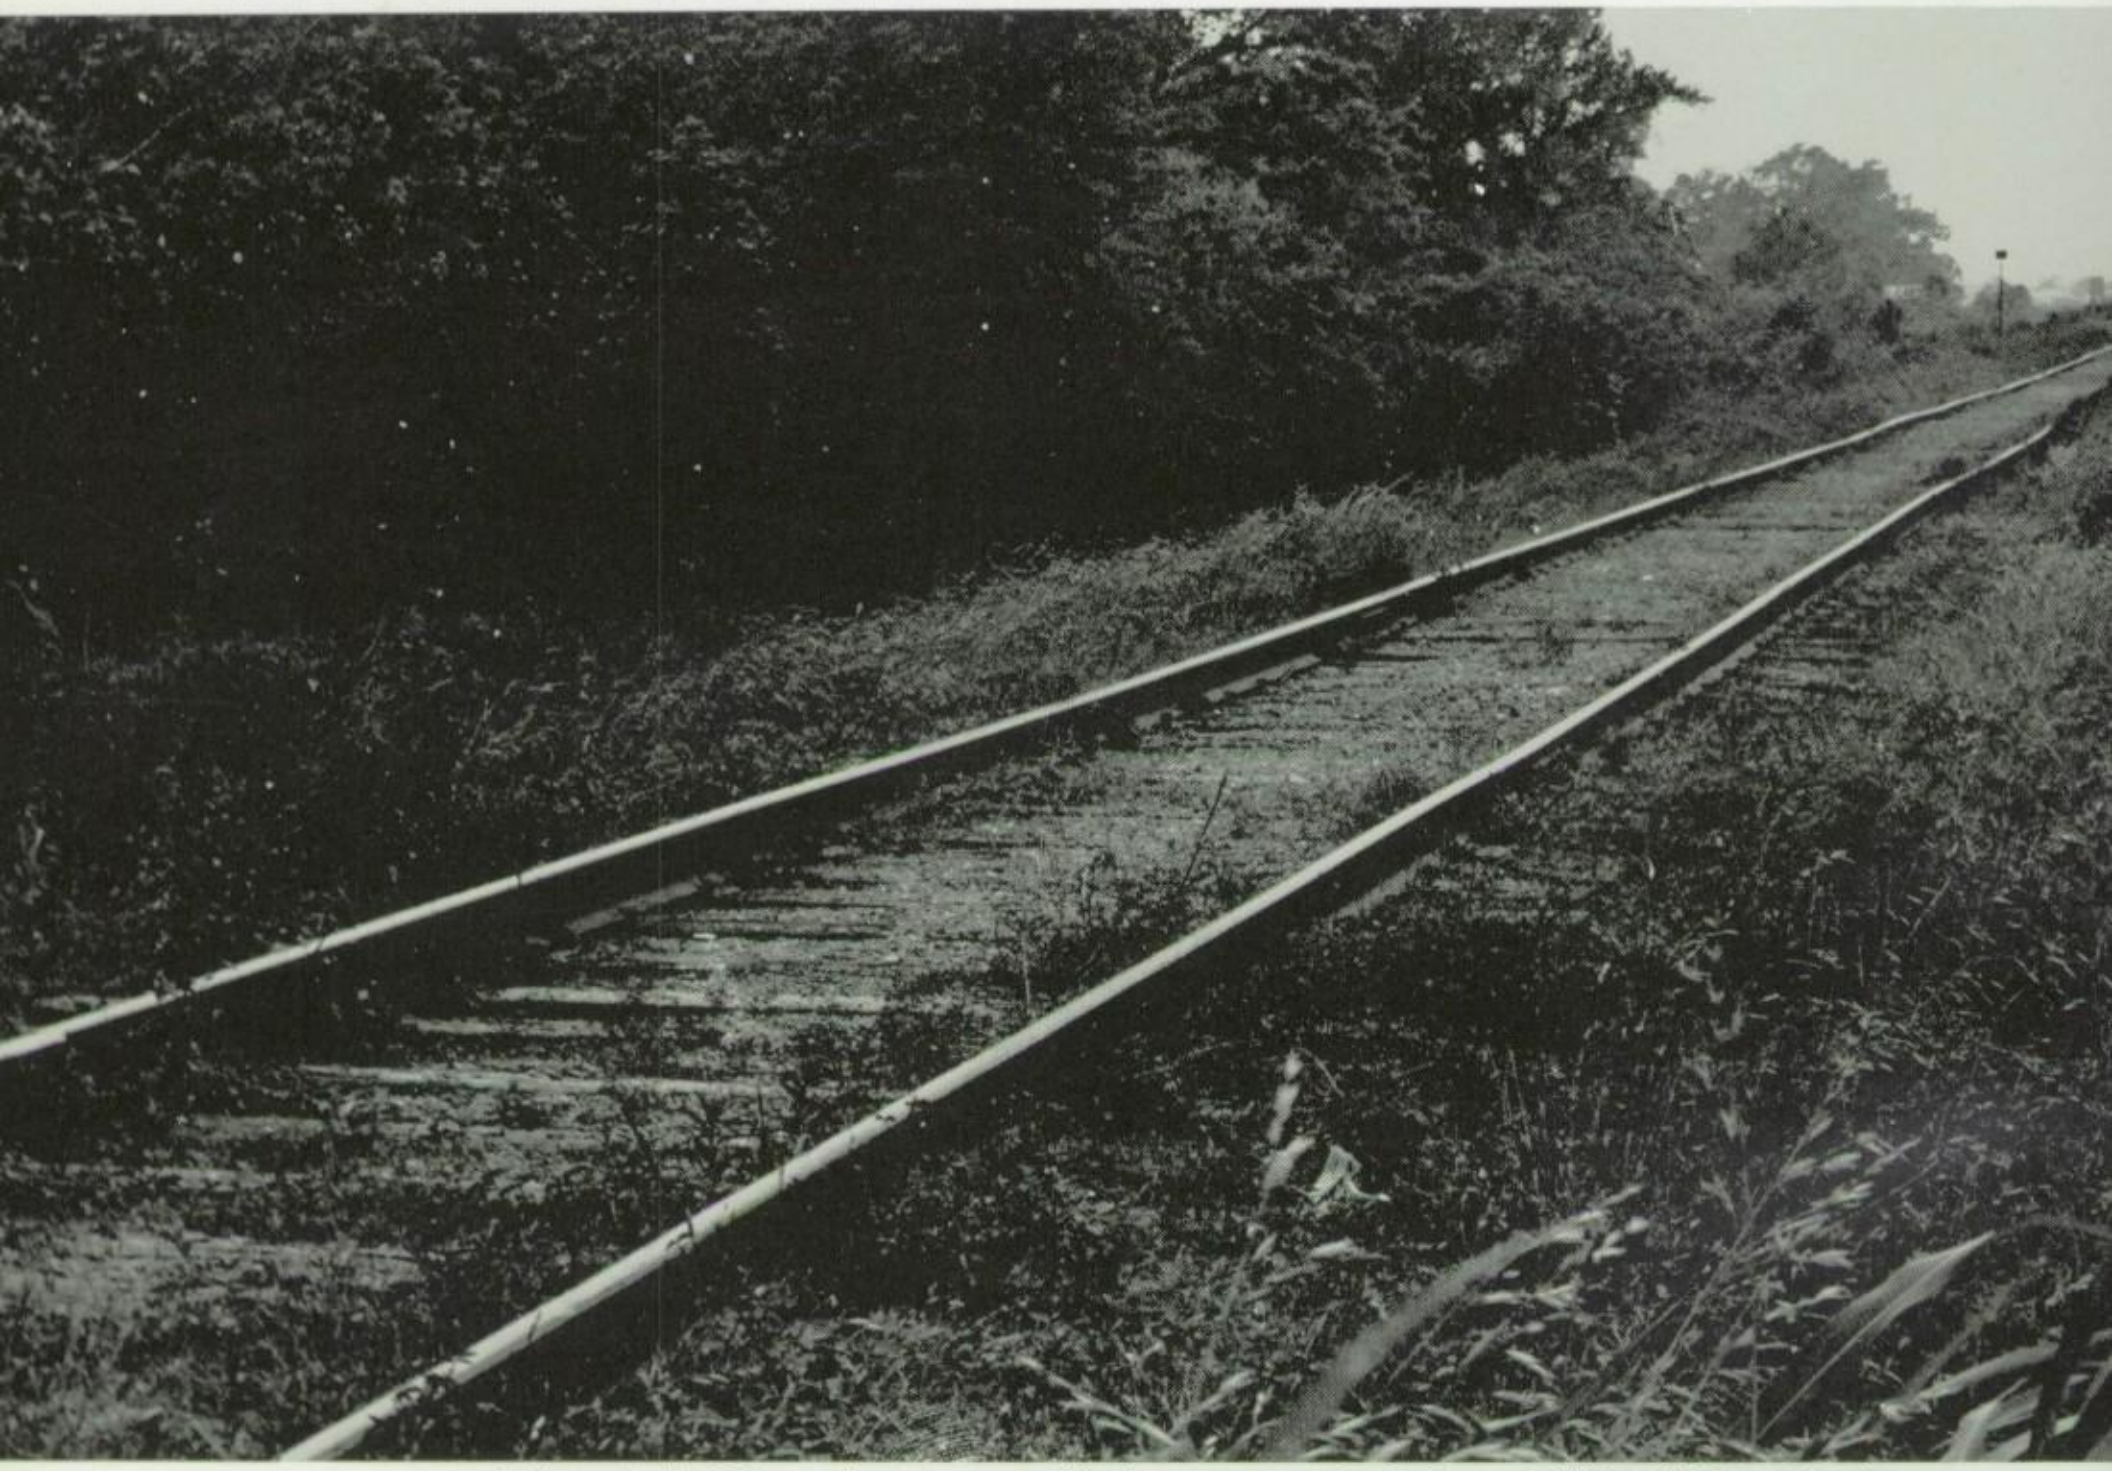
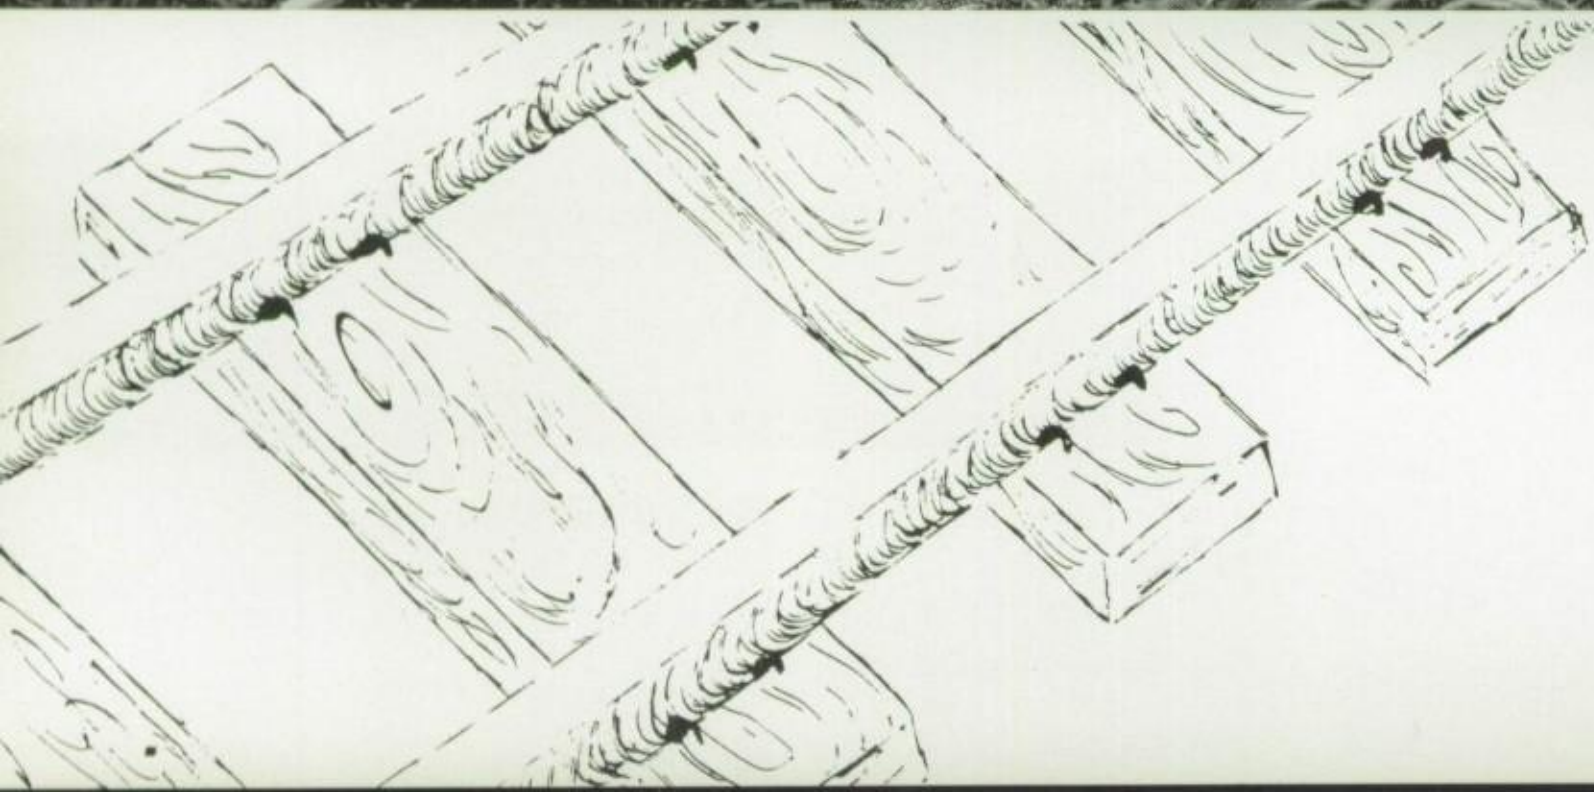
CLASSES





Tracks, leading off into the distance, carry the real burden of a railroad organization. They are the arteries and veins of a railroad. They must be solid, strong, secure. No matter what highly ornamental, modern streamliner may be used, the tracks are the difference between success or failure.

So it is with classes. The school exists for the student, just as the railroad exists for the people it serves. But classes are the main arteries of the scholastic organization. No matter what ornamentation in the way of activities, athletics, buildings, a school offers, without good, solid subjects taught by competent teachers, the school is worthless. Our classes are our main concern. They are the center of our life here at St. Mary's.

LATIN BANQUET HELD;

As Barbara Bordelon and Kaylord Boehme put on a skit the other members of the Latin classes roll in laughter. They are P. Duhon, B. Adams, B. Olexa, T. Tindall, and K. Geenen.

On April 17, the Latin Club prepared a banquet. Everyone contributed their services for the success of it. Ham, olives, bread, tomatoes, apples, nuts, and grape drink filled the menu. Everyone's name was printed in Latin on place cards and a majority of the students dressed in Roman togas. Latin I students prepared a skit about the Resurrection and then a game was played. Latin II girls generously offered to clean up afterwards and everyone else returned to class.

The food was great and many asked for second helpings. Mary Helen Riedmueller is shown pouring grape drink for Lynn Pye as Ronald Pivonka eagerly awaits his.

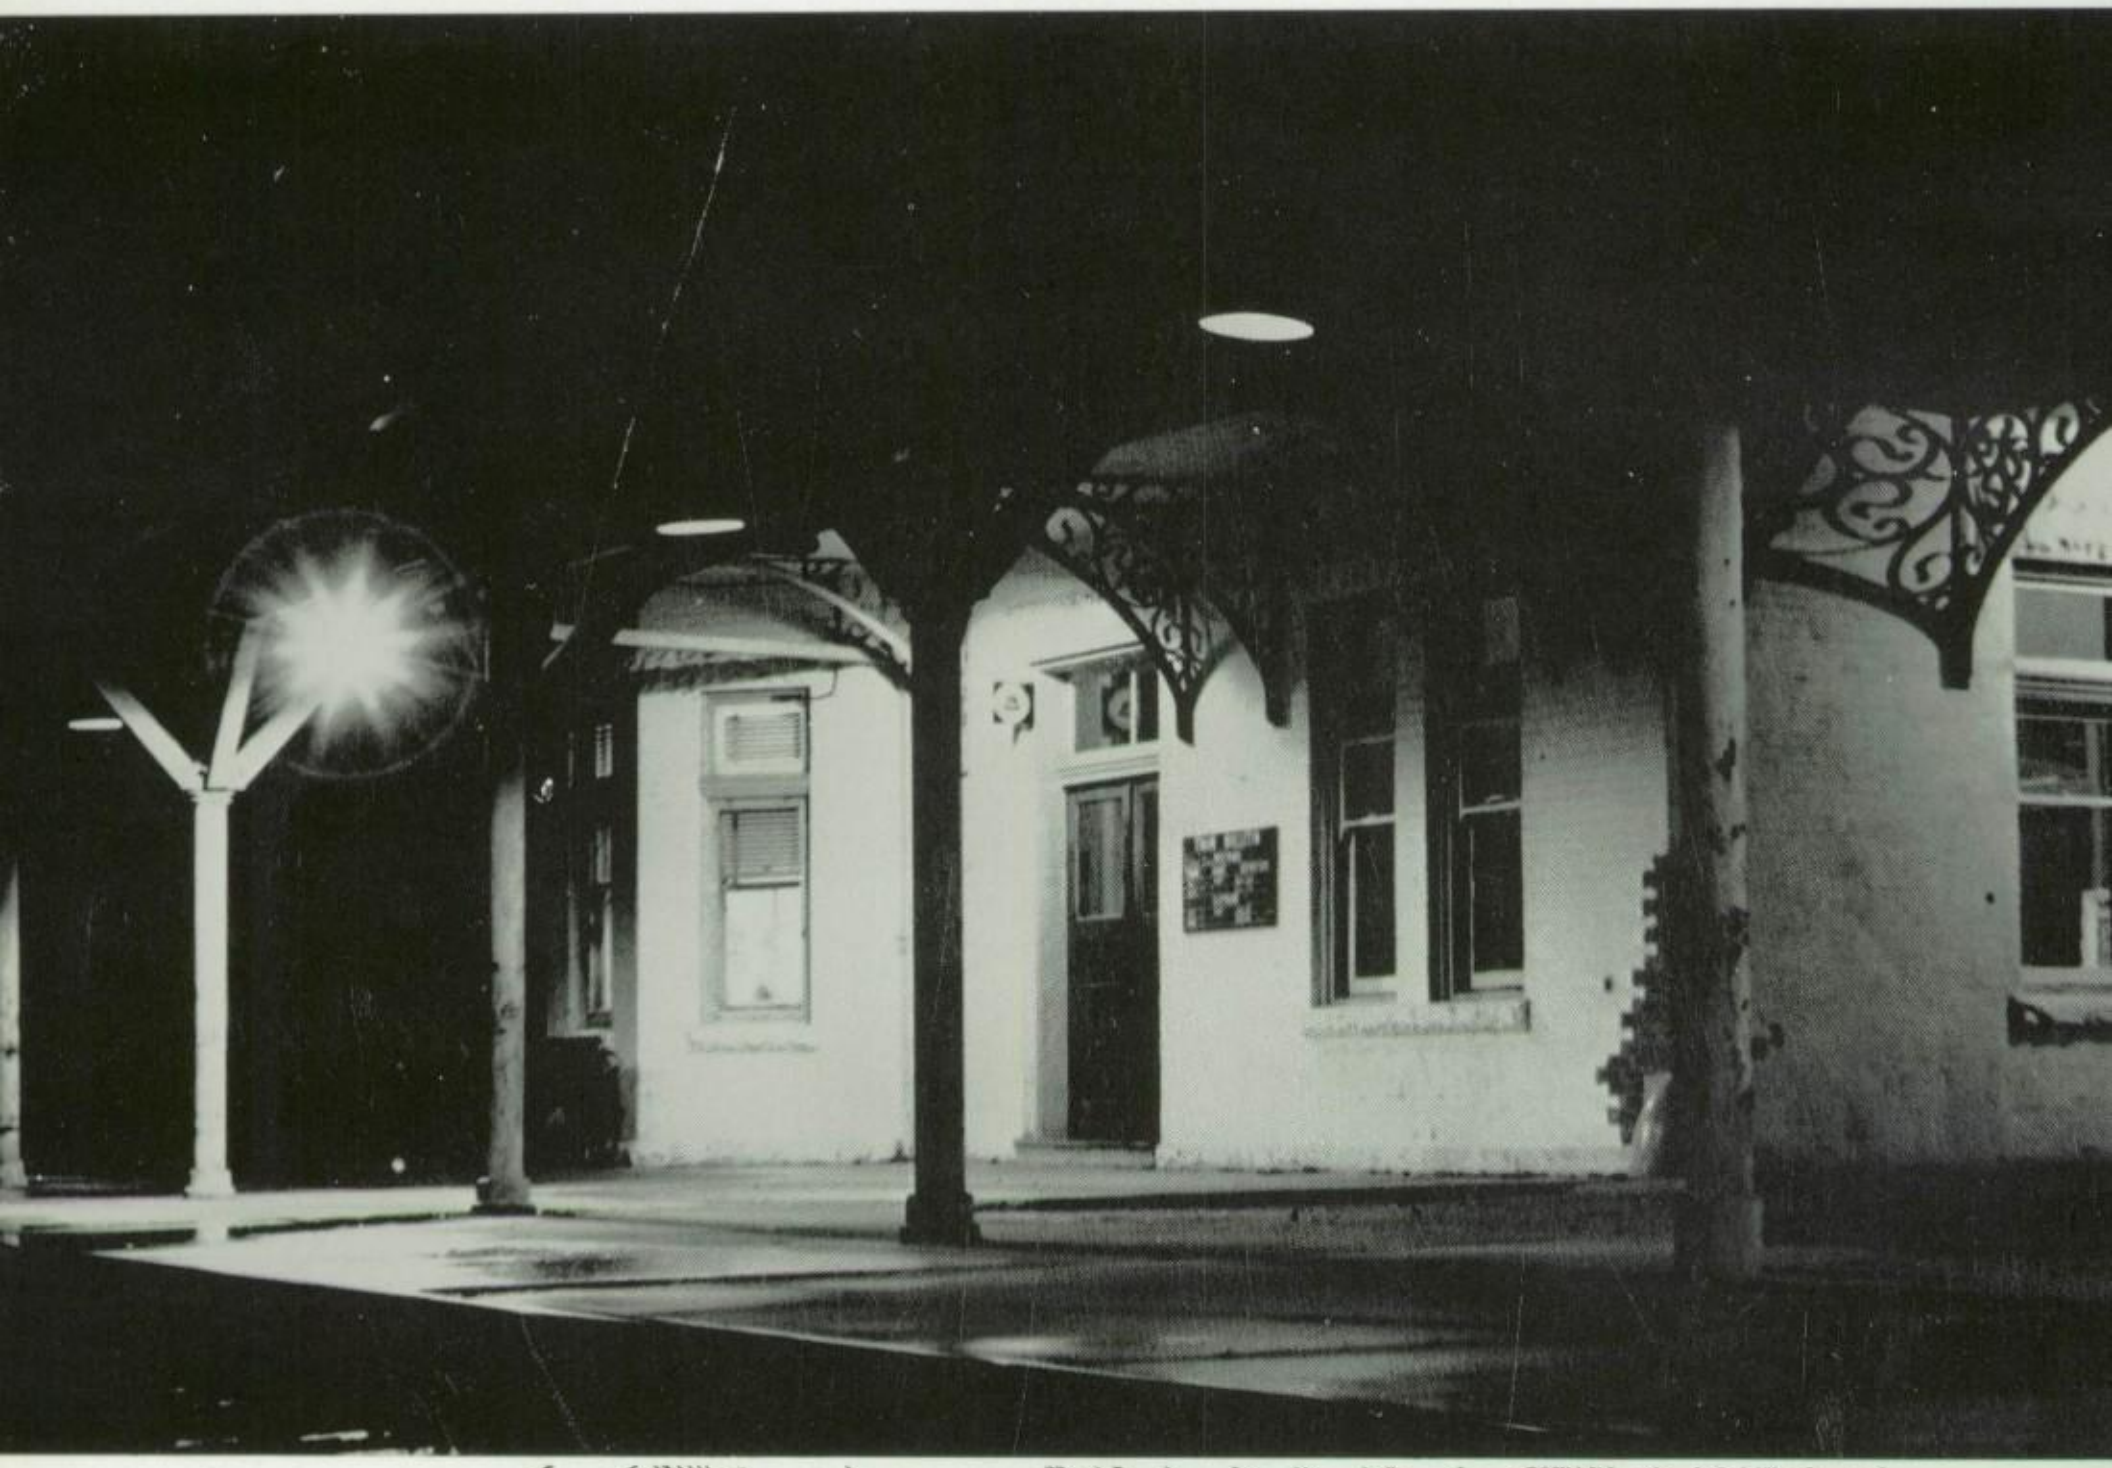
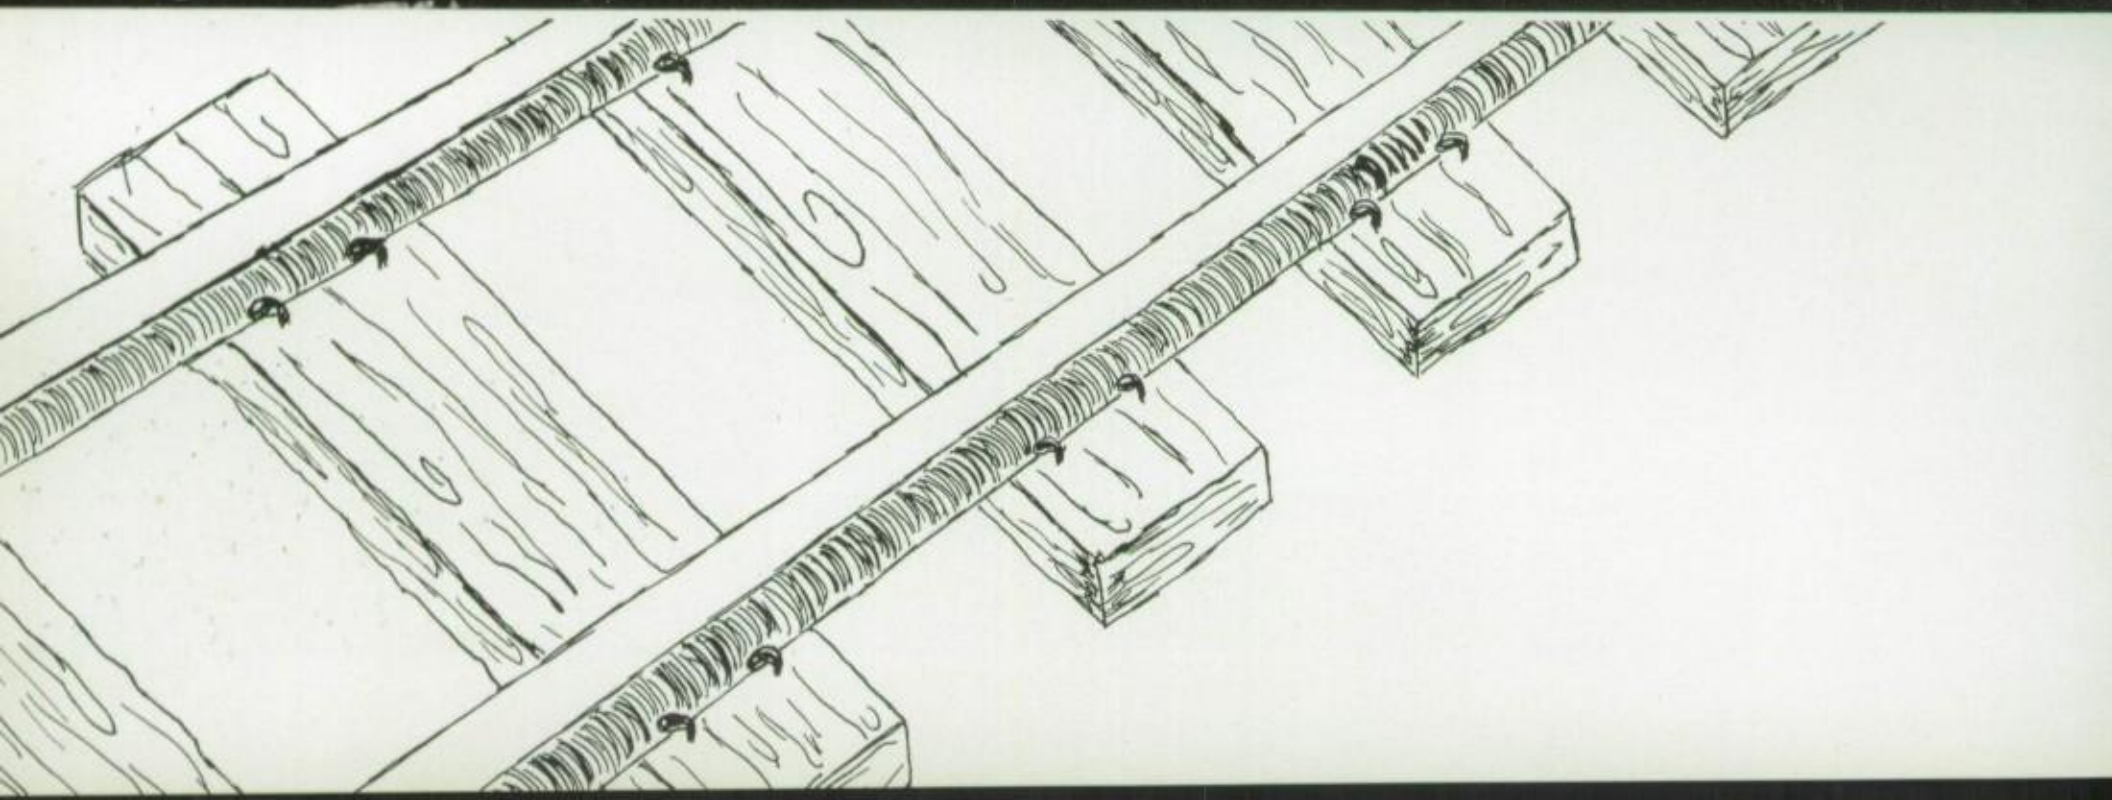
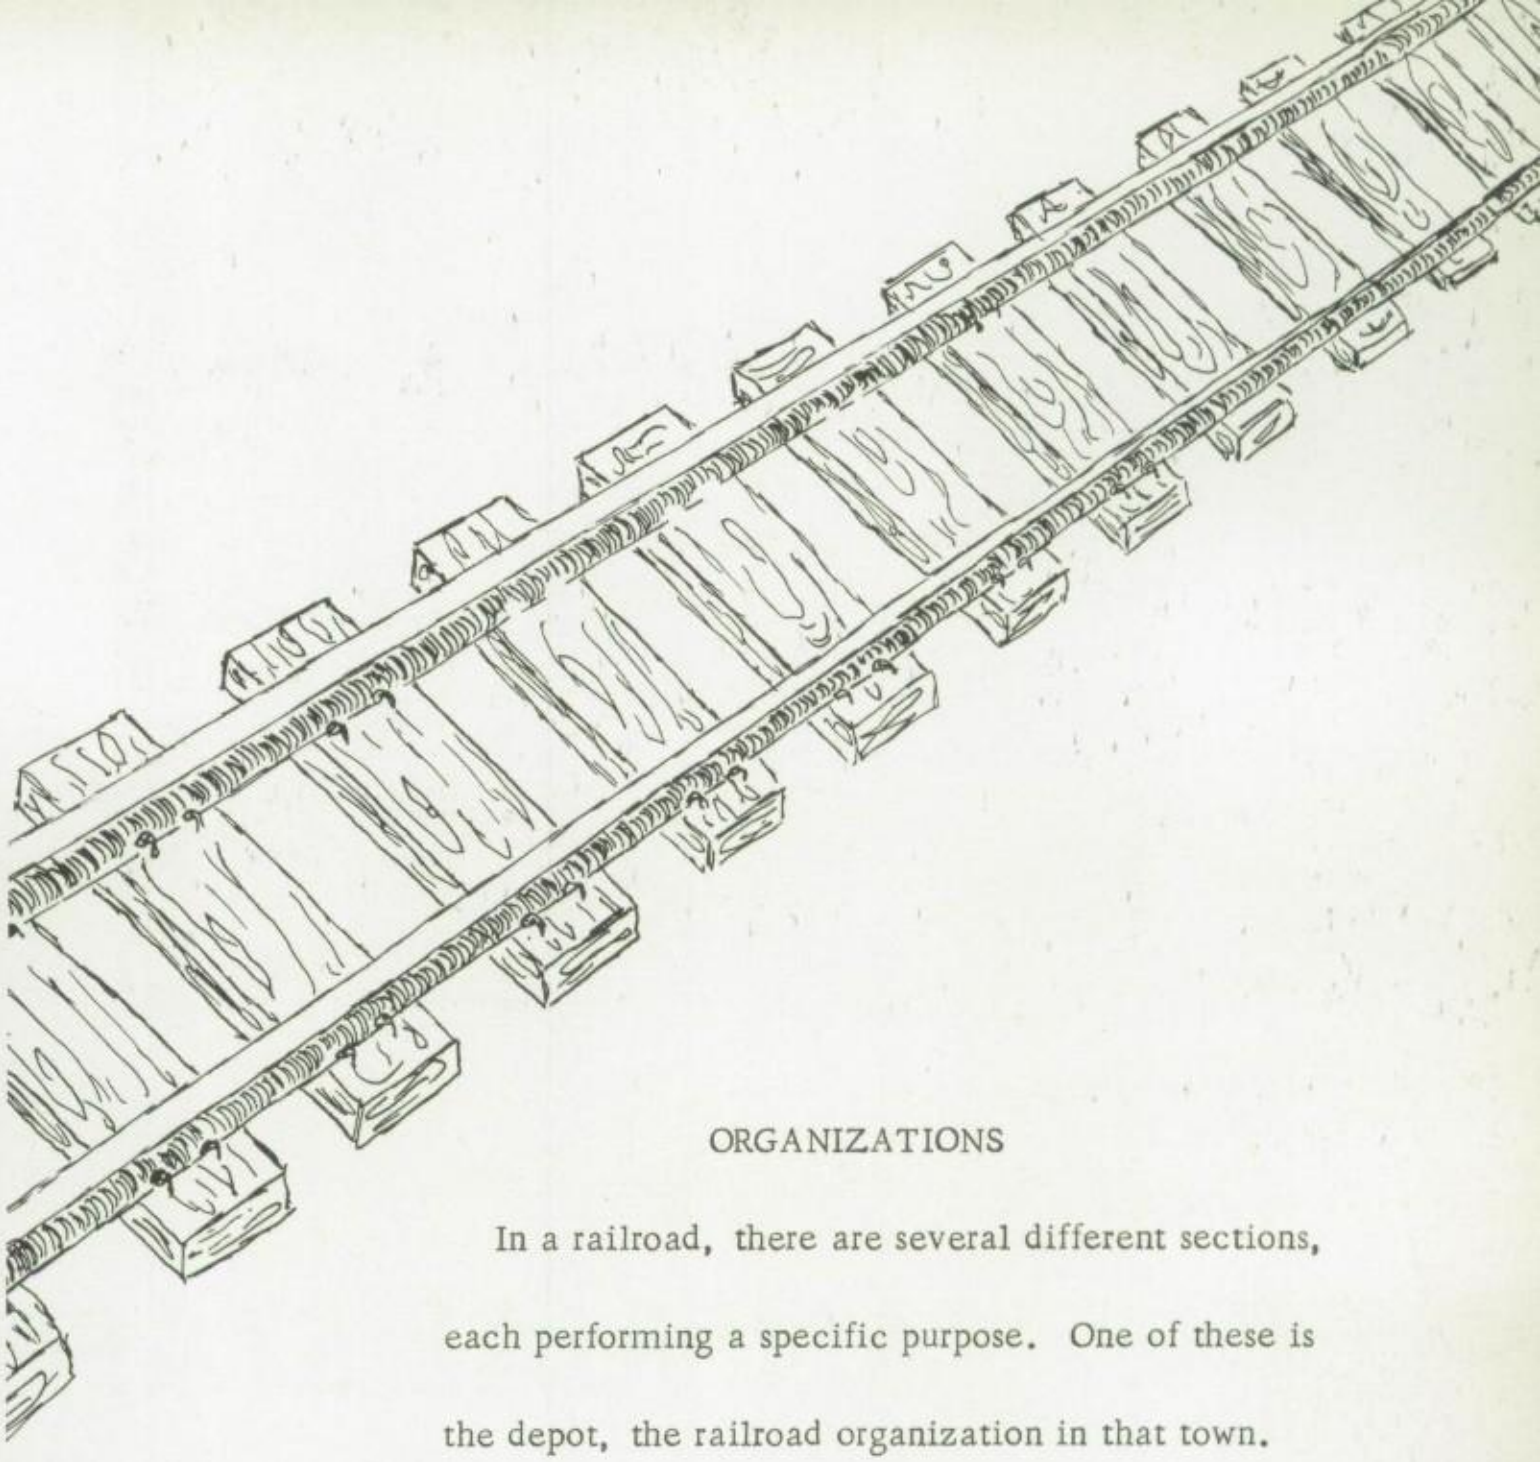
ORGANIZATIONS







ORGANIZATIONS

In a railroad, there are several different sections, each performing a specific purpose. One of these is the depot, the railroad organization in that town. This is the stopping place for the trains, and the place where passengers get on and off.

At school, there are many organizations, and each of these also has a specific purpose. Besides their practical purpose, these organizations have another, more remote purpose, that of teaching the students a sense of responsibility and leadership.

At St. Mary's, we have this and more. We have religious organizations designed to bring us closer to God. These organizations, the boys' and girls' Sodality, and the Altar Boys,' supplement the religious teaching we receive in class.

Michale Bordelon, Barbara Herm, and Mary Kersey, discuss annual staff affairs.

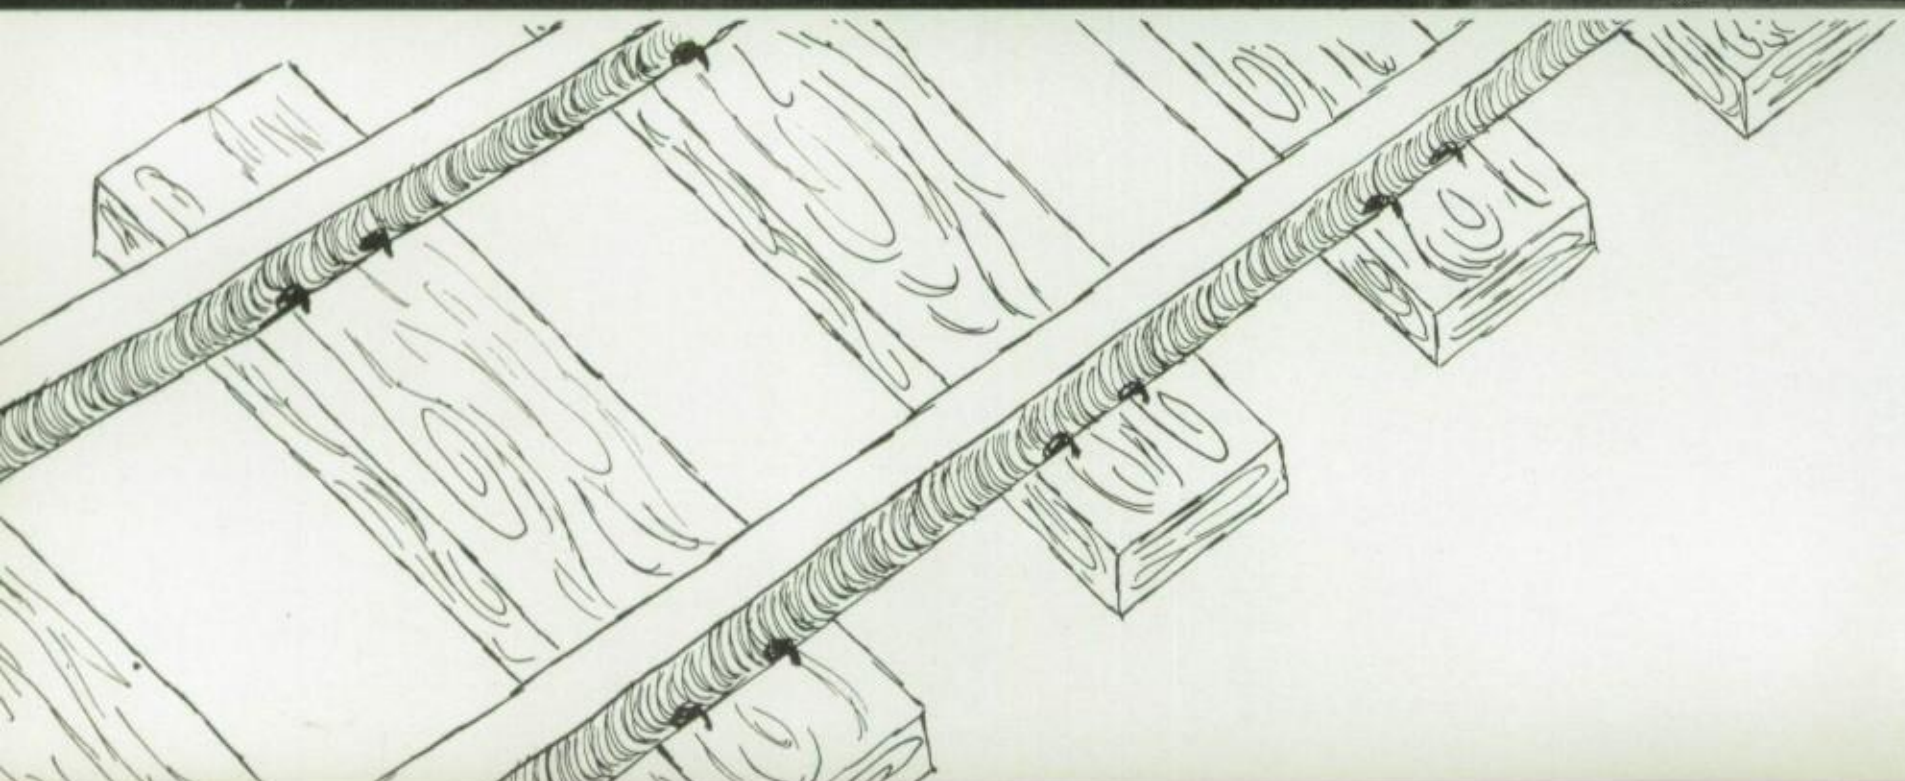
PERSONALITIES



The conductor is the man in charge of running the train. He is the one who gives the stop and go commands, checks the tickets, and sees that everything is running smoothly. As the representative of the organization, he is in charge of running the train.

The school is run by the faculty, it is true, but, in another sense, the students who make up that school are led by the classmates of their choosing. It is these few chosen leaders who set the standards to be upheld by the students, and see that everything runs smoothly for their classes. These leaders are the representatives of their class and must exhibit intelligence, integrity, and dependability.

SENIOR REPRESENTATIVE

BARBARA HERM PATRICK CLARK

Barbara and Patrick were chosen representative by their class for their exceptional qualities of responsibility, dependability and scholastic standings.

SENIOR BEST-ALL-AROUND

CLAUDIA DUHON LAURENCE DAVID

By taking an active part in both school activities and sports, Claudia and Larry merited the title, best-all-around of the Senior Class.

SENIOR FAVORITES

CHERYL CULP FELIX ANDERSON

Their sense of humor, wit, and cheery smile all conspired to bring their election as Senior Class favorites.

JUNIOR REPRESENTATIVE

ANDY KELLY CAROLYN DUCHAMP

Andy and Carolyn were certainly deserving of representing their class, because of their co-operation, dependability, intelligence, and general helpfulness to school and classmates.

JUNIOR BEST-ALL-AROUND

TOMMY RIEDMUELLER PAULA RUSSIAN

Tommy and Paula were selected because of their cheery way of brightening the many activities in which they participated.

JUNIOR FAVORITES

JIMMY LELEAUX KAREN PEVETO

Jimmy's and Karen's congeniality and winning personalities contributed to their election as Junior favorites.

SOPHOMORE REPRESENTATIVE

LOUISE BLANDA BEN RAMKE

Because of their ability to assume responsibilities, maintain a high scholastic average, and participate in school functions, Louise and Ben were chosen representatives of the Sophomore Class.

SOPHOMORE BEST-ALL-AROUND

MARY PARHAM GEORGE SOLOMON

Because of their happy dispositions and participation in many varied activities, Mary and George were chosen as best-all-around of their class.

SOPHOMORE FAVORITES

THERESA DUBOIS LEONARD MATHEWS

Chosen by their classmates for their friendliness, their willingness to help others, and their much-used ability to smile and laugh, Theresa and Leonard could rate as favorites in any class.

FRESHMAN REPRESENTATIVE

BENNY MAZZOLA MARILYN LASTRAPES

Benny and Marilyn were certainly deserving of representing their class due to their leadership and high sense of values.

FRESHMAN BEST-ALL-AROUND

BILL ADAMS VICKI SIMONETTI

Besides maintaining a good scholastic average Bill and Vicki contributed their talents to many activities.

FRESHMAN FAVORITE

LEE ROY DUPRIE MARGARET LUCIA

A pleasant smile and amiable disposition have made Lee Roy and Margaret favorites of their class.

Chosen as outstanding exemplars of loyalty and service are seniors Samuel Lucia and Barbara Herm.

SERVICE

LOYALTY

In their club and scholastic activities, as officers of their senior class, as leads in the senior play, Barbara and Sammy have cooperated wholeheartedly and shown a spirit of responsibility and concern.

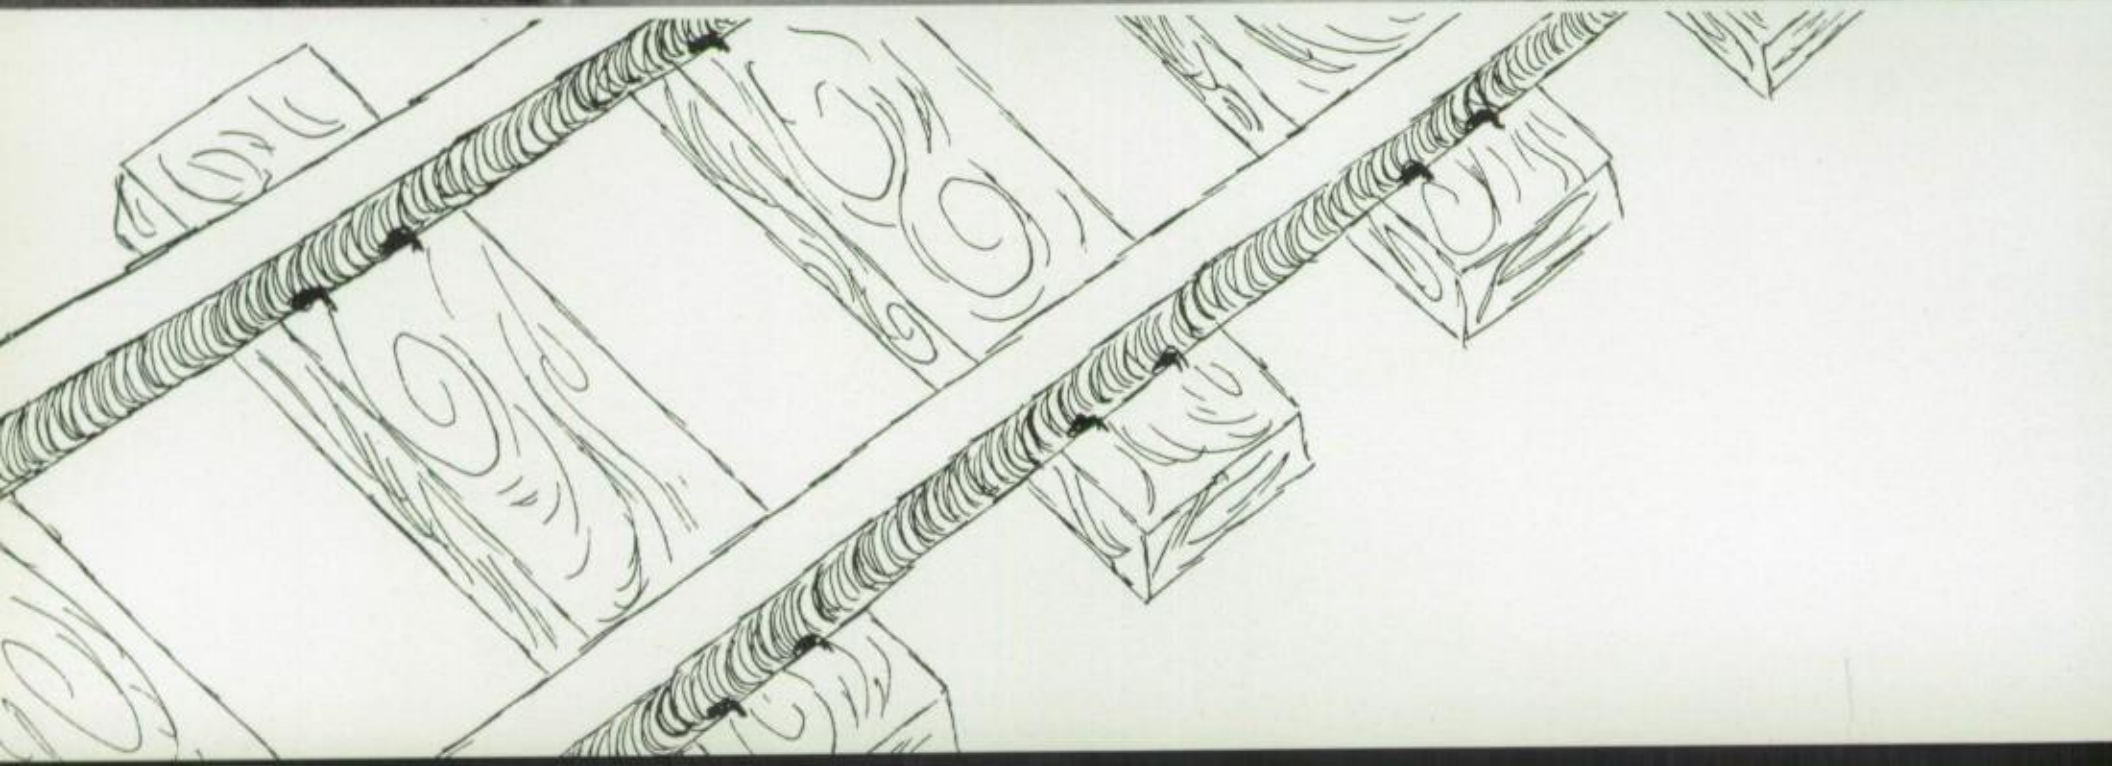
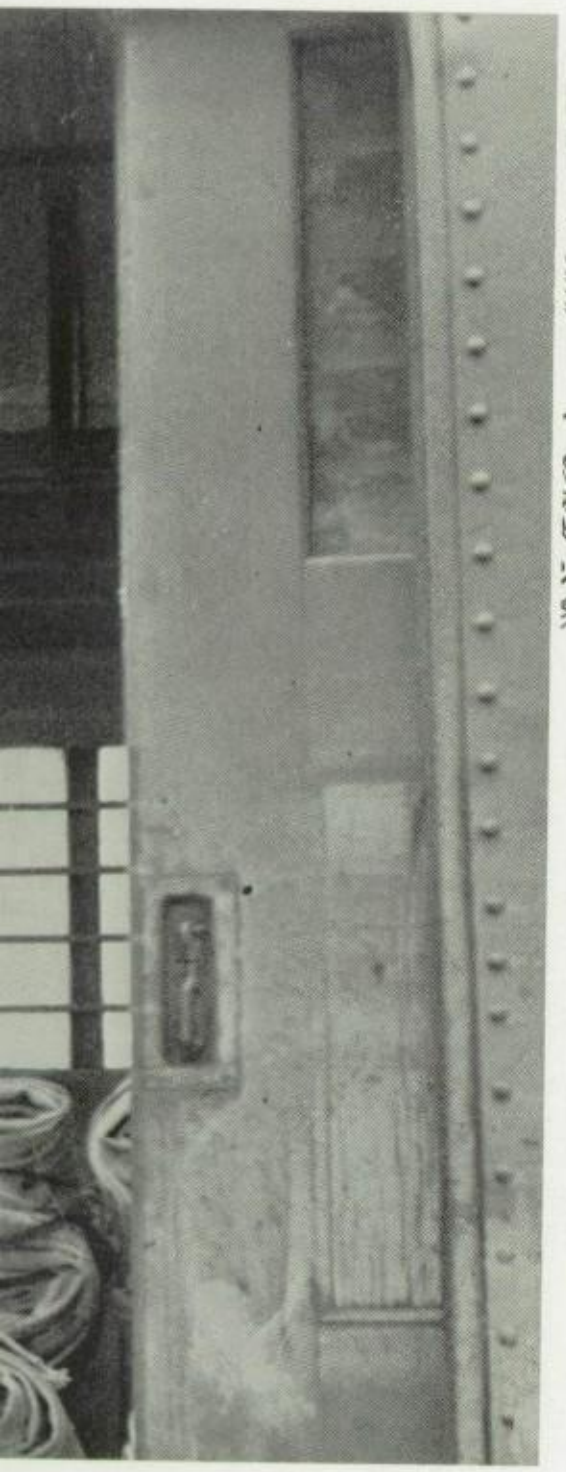
ATHLETICS





The workers of a railroad organization are not all inactive and have "white collar jobs." There are some who must do the actual physical labor, and this too is a part of railroad life. Those who do this work are helping the railroad, just as surely as those doing the clerical work.

So too, at school, life is not all mental. The more active side of school can be seen in the different organizations, activities, and sports. Probably the most active part of school life is sports. In it, the students are given a chance to "let off steam" and in so doing perform a service for the school as well as themselves. In sports they learn several lessons valuable in later life, such as fair play and learning to accept both victory and defeat.

At St. Mary's, the sports program is growing by leaps and bounds. The football, baseball, and basketball teams, in their first year in the Catholic league, have won at least one district game in each sport.

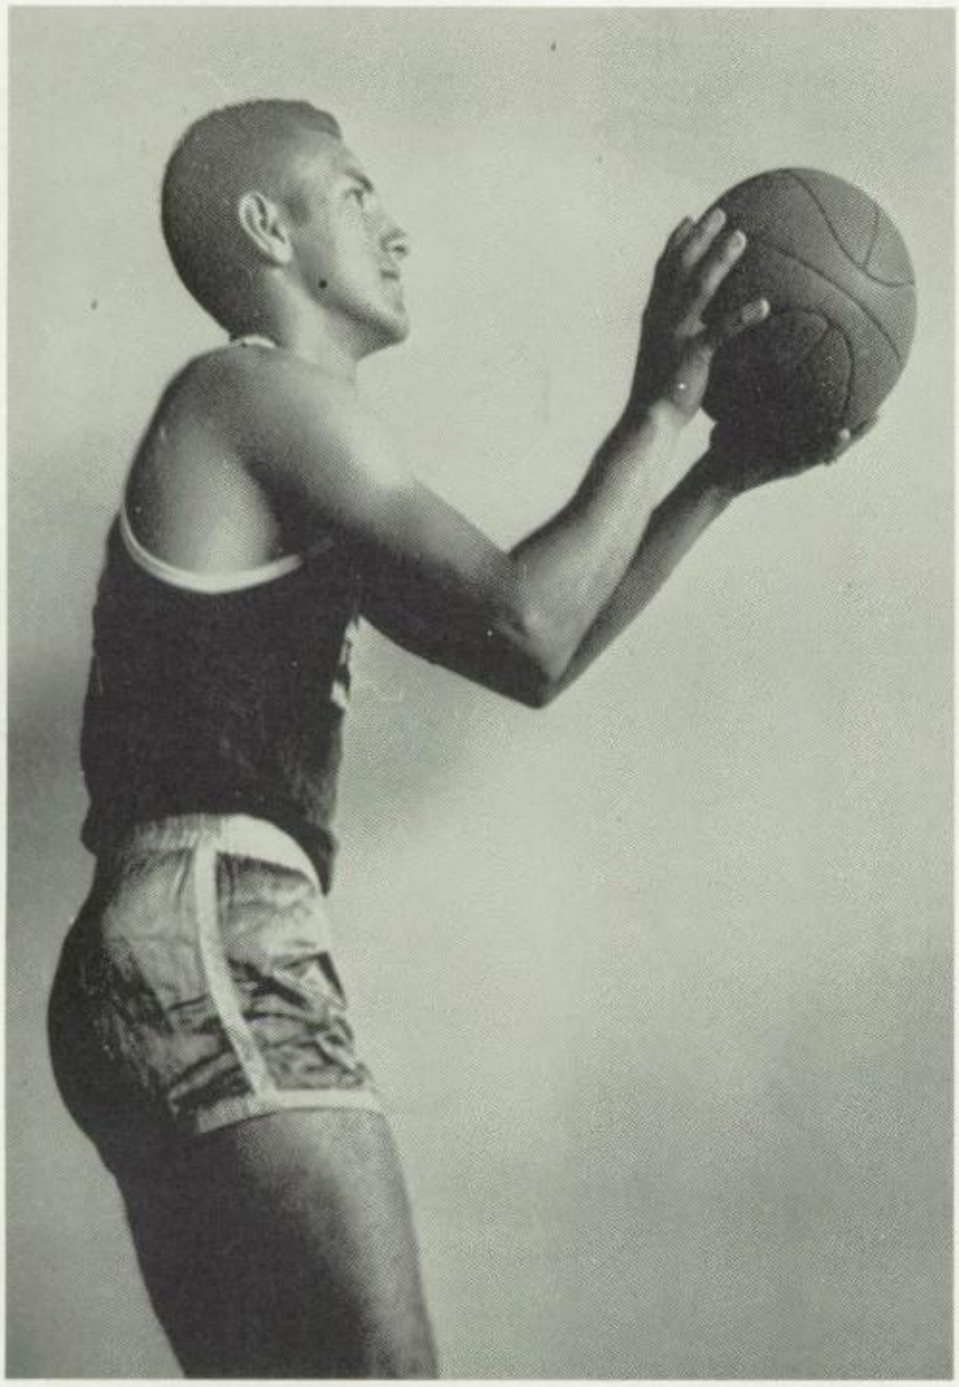
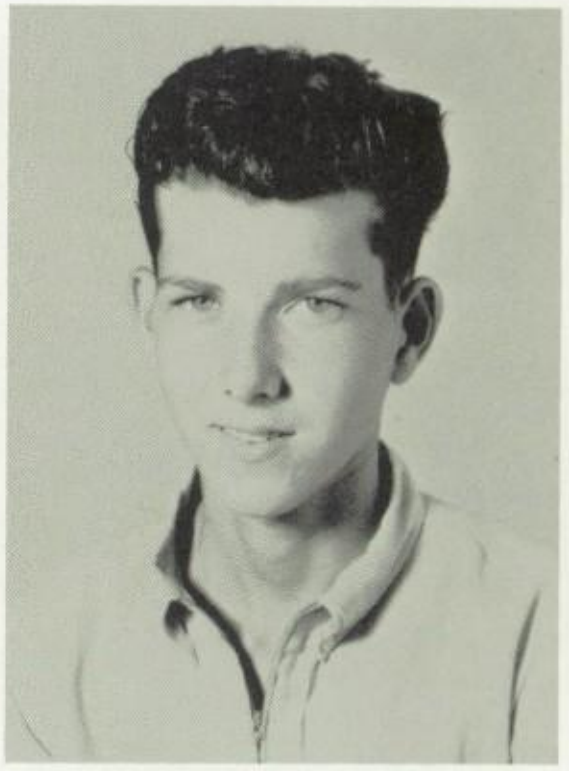
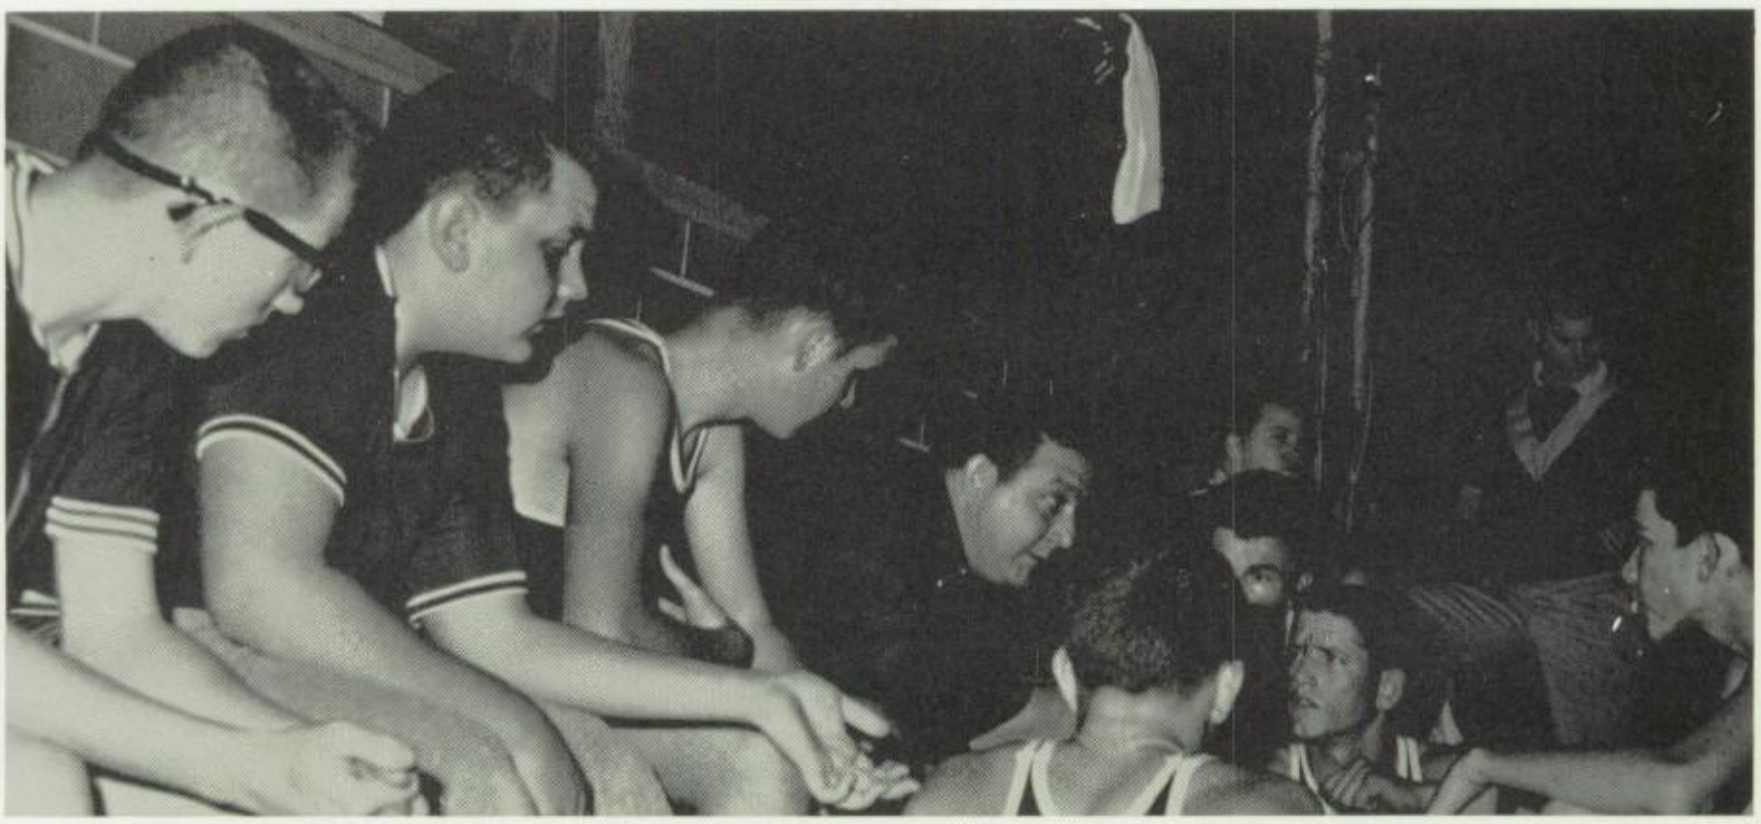
— THAT'S BASKETBALL!



Replacing his football uniform for basketball trunks, Earl Trahan won the title of All District Player in Catholic District I.



Six-footer Joe Barras so well represented our school, its spirit and capabilities, that he won for himself the title of All District Player.



During halftime at the Byrne game Coach Harry Fontenot goes over different plays with the team. Sitting on the bench are K. Bordelon, S. Arsenault, T. Rolen, Earl Trahan (back to camera), R. Legnion, Earnest Trahan, and Joe Barras.

HORNETS TIE THIRD

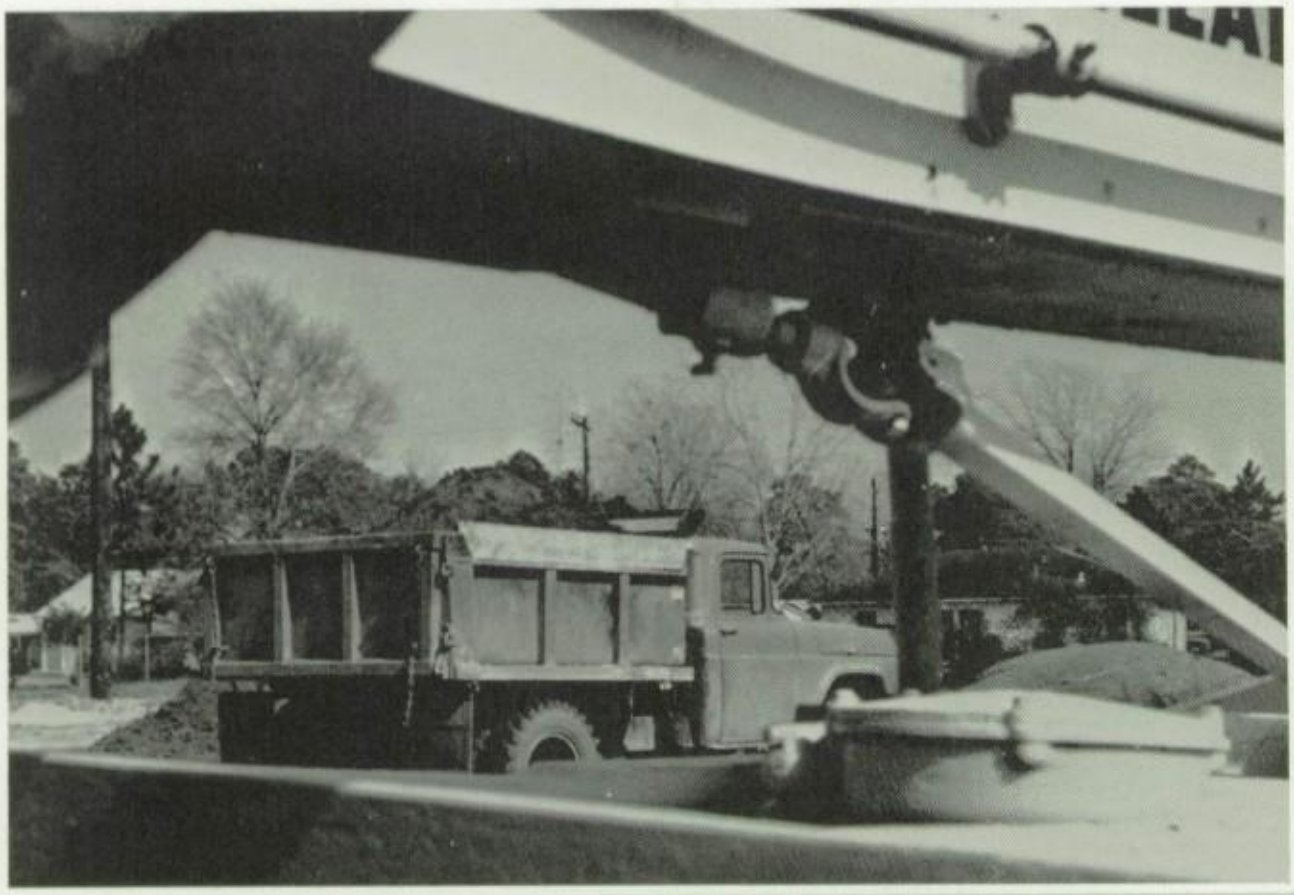
Pat Ewing hurries to help Roberta Ewing, whose face expresses her all-engrossing desire to keep that ball away from one of the Central players.

CAVALCADE OF SPORTS

These girls received certificates for their participation in girls' sports throughout the year: V. Simonetti, S. Repasky, M. Lucia, B. Bordelon, M. Lastrapes, P. Russian, C. Duhon, P. Cormier, J. Ewing, B. Fore.

Lined up behind assistant coaches Sammy Lucia and Edward White are members of the Girls' Softball Team: A. Mendoza, P. Cormier, A. Mazzola, C. Dye, B. Fore, J. Hatcher, L. Marshall, A. Duchamp, E. Britton, C. Jobes, J. Ewing and V. Simonetti.

A BIG JOB NEARS COMPLETION



It took many loads of dirt and long hours of spreading, but the job of leveling the field and planting grass is now completed.

Other improvements are a new fence, a baseball diamond and a sprinkler system.

A dramatic sight was the erection of the big lights. We now have the best lighted stadium in the county.

Here Mr. E. Lastrapes, Mr. S. Swope and Mr. T. Culp listen as unidentified man (pointing) explains the work to be done.

No, it's not Cooper in flight; just one of Jimmy's wild punts.

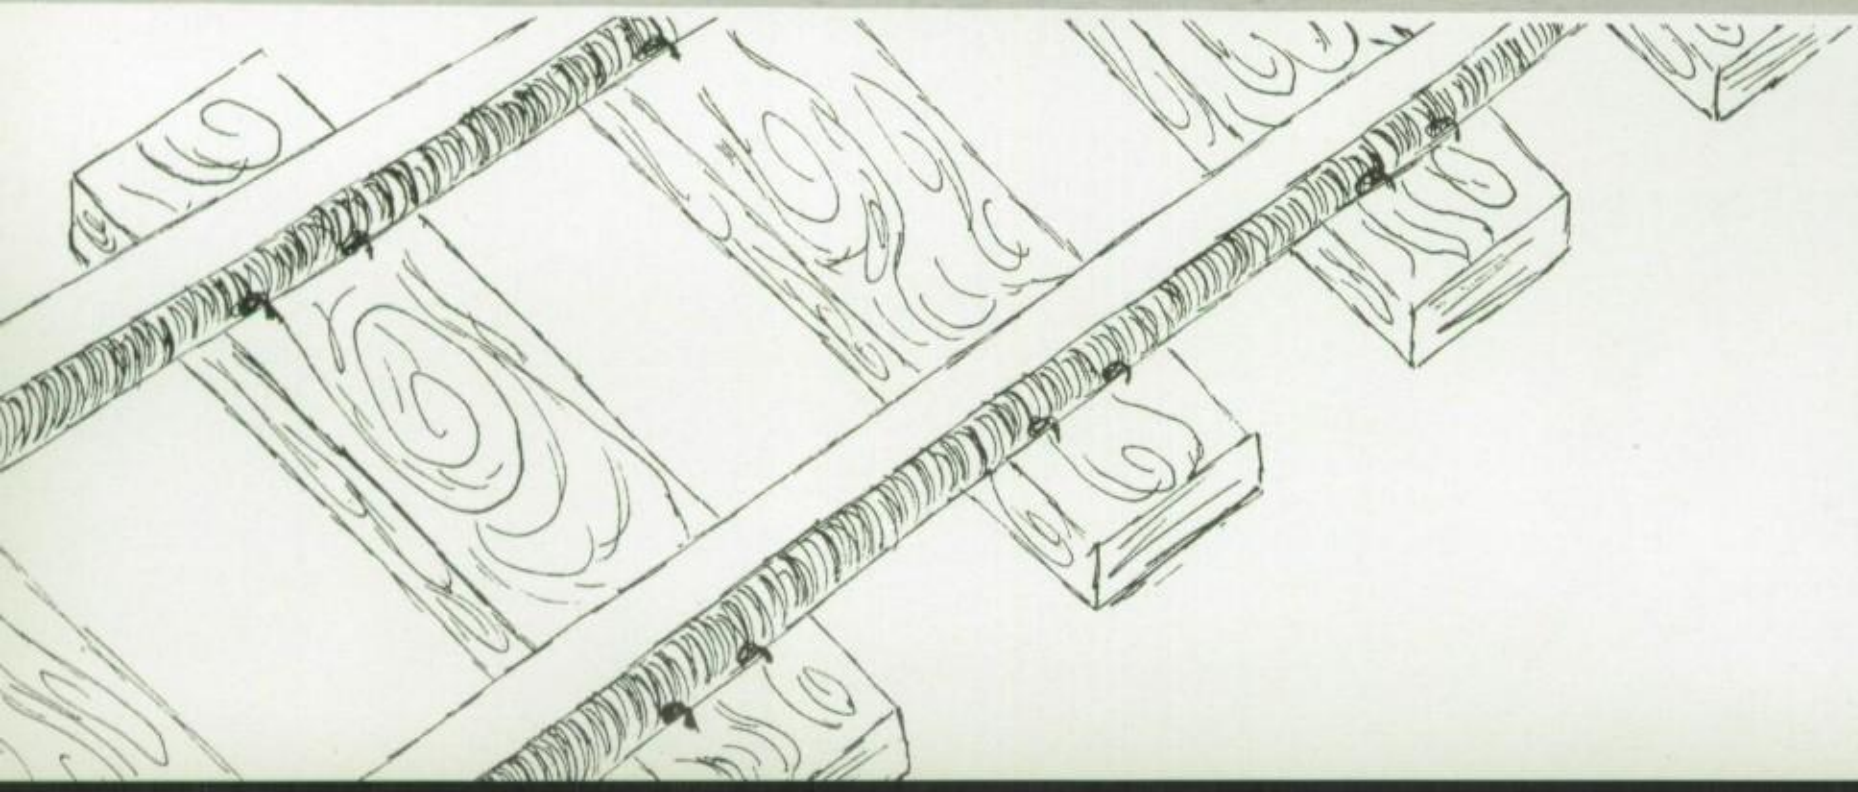
"Darn these spikes!"

ACTIVITIES



A trestle is a bridge for a train, carrying it across some obstacle from one side to the other. It is one of the things needed for a railroad, although it is not the most important part.

So, too, at school, besides its ordinary functions of teaching, activities act as a bridge between studies and social life.

Each of these has some connections with the school, and yet is something apart from it, not being necessary for the school's functioning. These activities help to keep the school from being one-sided with over-emphasis on studies.

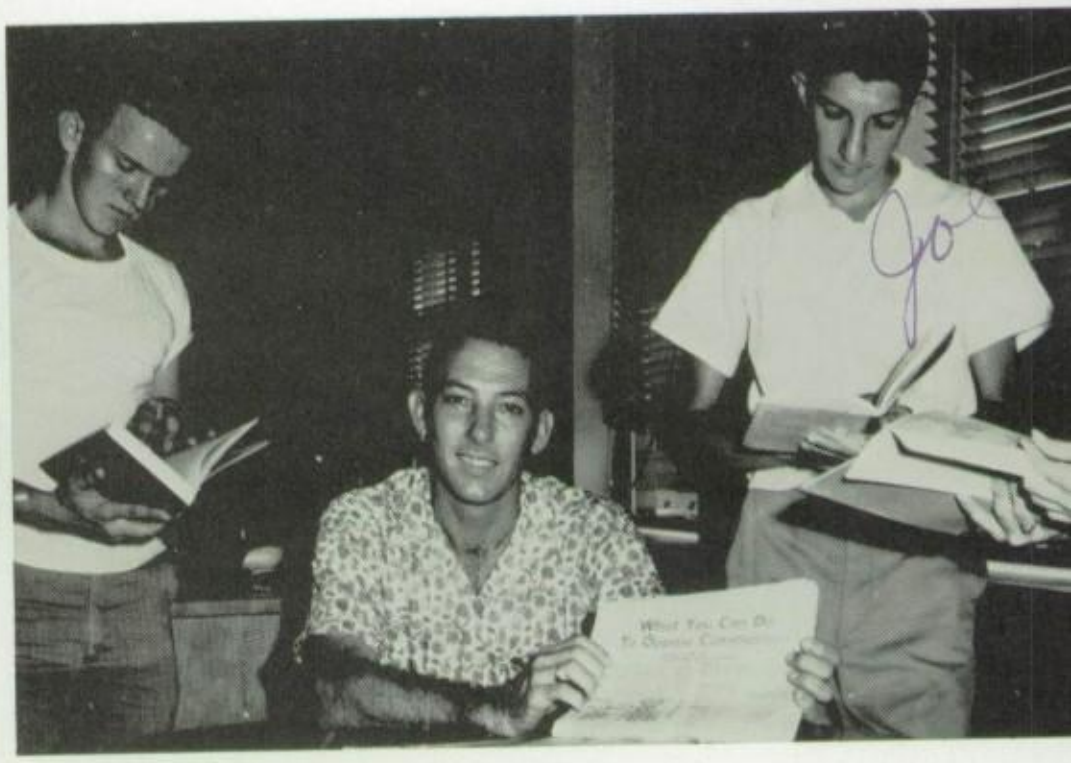
At St. Mary's, we have not only the ordinary activities, such as dances and picture shows, but also religious activities, such as the Living Rosary, attending Mass on Class Mass Day, and Lenten devotions. Thus, we are helped to become well-rounded individuals, receiving religious, educational, and social training.

SEPTEMBER BRINGS BEWILDERED

The new freshmen thoroughly enjoyed the many funny games arranged for them by the seniors. Here they move cautiously, just before the mad scramble in a game of musical chairs.

Mr. Earl Angelle is seen here introducing P. Lawrence, J. Giarratano, and M. Kersy to some of the anti-Communist literature now circling America.

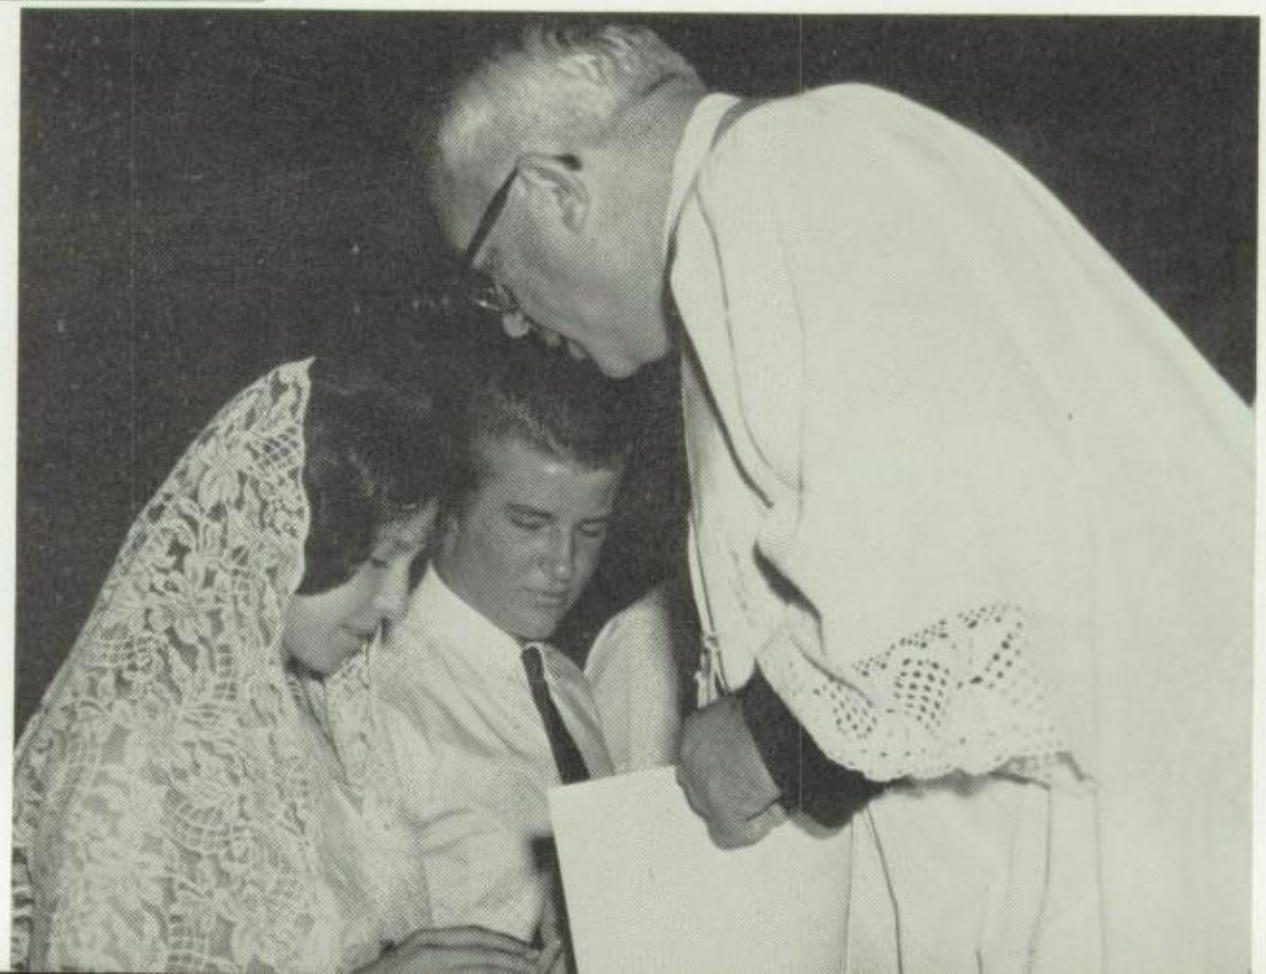
R. Anderson, C. Britton, K. Boehme, and J. Cormier stole the show on initiation night. Poor Charles is left gazing into space trying to imagine who the strange ladies could be.



FISH; PROUD SENIORS

Today their hands steal the show as the seniors admiringly gaze at their new rings. Here in a group we see their usual happy dispositions.

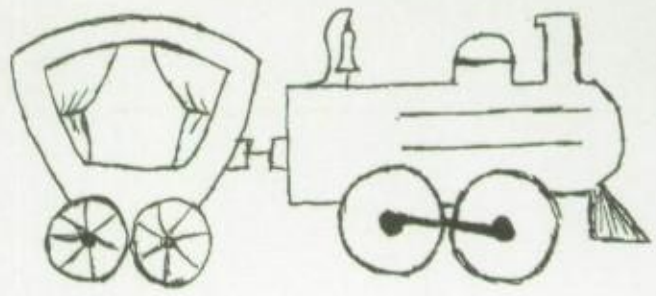
The large and small always make a cute couple. Pat Clark and Cheryl Culp use their rings to confirm this.



Father Joe presents S. Alcoser and F. Anderson with their rings.

HOMECOMING SPOTLIGHTS

The blazing power of St. Mary's this year was a fifty-five feet high bonfire which swallowed the Mustangs.



Thrilled at the prospect of another football victory, cheerleaders C. Duhon, and P. Russian fume with enthusiasm.

With unusual courtesy C. Culp, S. Alcoser, and T. Dubois carry P. Clark's, E. White's and L. David's books; the occasion--Players Courtesy Day.

FOOTBALL SEASON

Queen elect C. Duhon is crowned Queen of the Homecoming Game and Dance by T. Havens, and T. Ewing as mascot C. Blanda presents crown.

Her majesty C. Duhon wears her happy grin as she poses with escorts T. Havens and T. Ewing and Ex-Queen N. Dubois after being crowned and presented with a bouquet of red roses.

This year's Homecoming candidate and escorts here take their places for the crowning of the Queen. They were C. Duhon, B. Herm, K. Peveto, P. Russian, T. Dubois, A. Mazzola, M. Lucia, S. Todaro. Their escorts were T. Havens, T. Ewing, R. Legnion, E. White, F. Anderson, L. Lucia, S. Lucia, P. Clark, L. David, G. Stevens, A. Broussard.

PAGEANTRY, MUSIC HERALDS CHRIST-CHILD

It was hard work putting the float together in below-freezing weather but the seniors with their usual zest completed it with honors.

The "Peace On Earth" theme and beautiful structure of the float won us first prize in the Annual Christmas Parade.

The Candle Feast Celebrations held at the MacArthur Shopping Center drew large crowds to the Manger Scene and Glee Club Choir.

This year's paper drive was a huge success. Here we see a few of the industrious Sophomores Anna Mazzola, Barbara Fore, Judy Hatcher and Ernest Trahan busily stacking the newspapers and magazines brought in by the different grades.

The Twirp Week activities ended with a dance in the grade school auditorium. Everyone had a smashing time; here Larry Bourliea, Glenn Stevens, Burneat Hogan, Mary Kersey, and Allen Broussard seem to be having a very nice time.

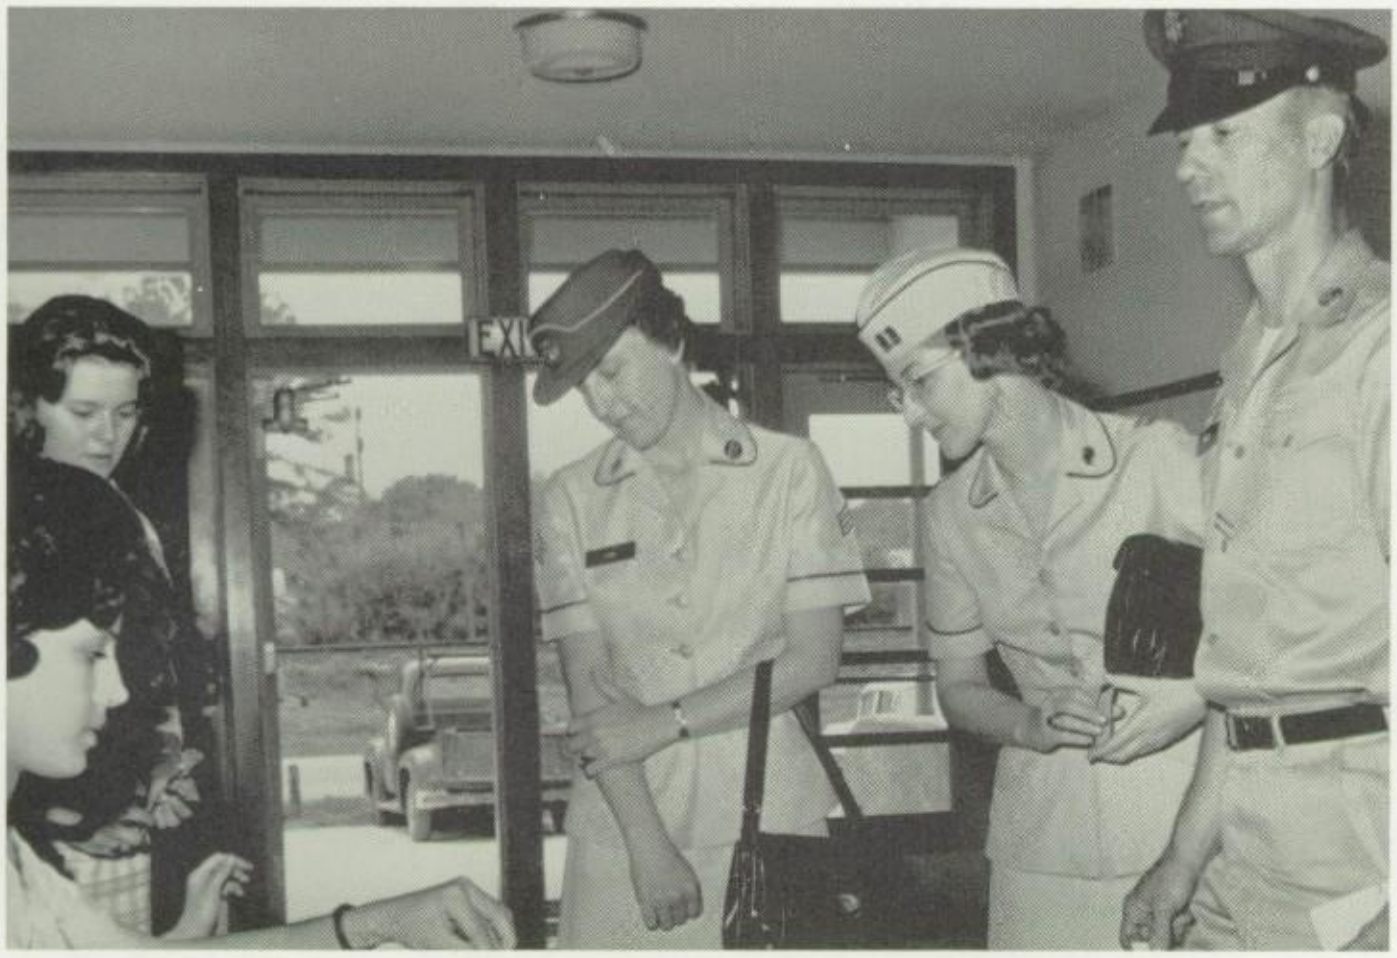
A special program was held for Father Joe on his feast day. He seems to have really enjoyed the variety in the performances put on by the grade school, the songs by the Glee Club and the pageant by the high school.

Father Maxwell, the director of our retreat this year, is a Maryknoll Missionary. His sanctity, zeal and understanding helped us all towards a clearer knowledge of our faith and a greater appreciation of our Catholic religion.

Here at the close of the retreat we see Father Maxwell about to bestow the Apostolic Blessing.

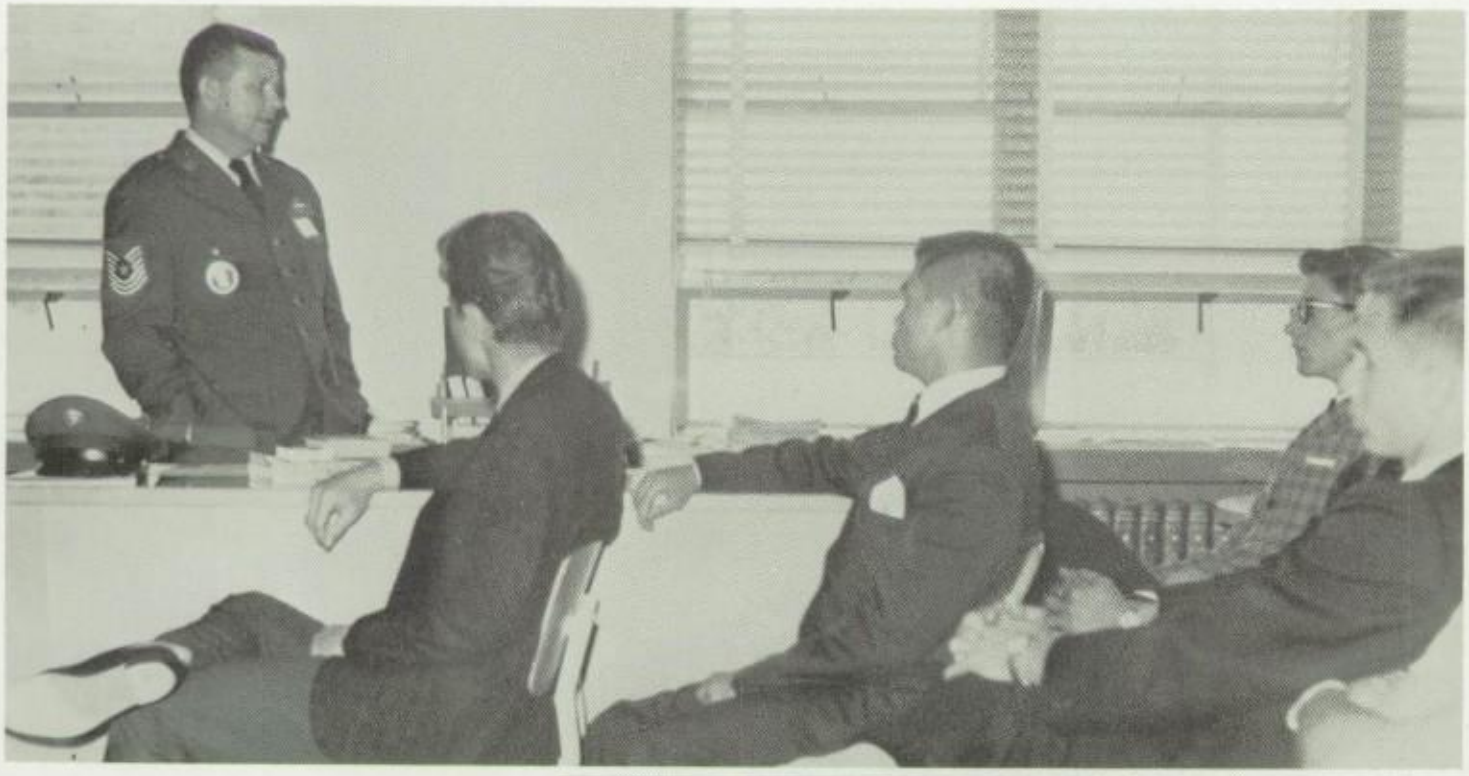
This silhouette brings forth the pious serenity of the students as they attentively listen to Father Maxwell during one of the conferences in the Church.

This year's Football Banquet was a huge success. The hall on the D. E. R. A. grounds was overflowing with the proud and enthusiastic supporters of this season's Hornets team.



Our Career Day was opened with registration in the front hall. Here we see the Army Personnel being registered by the receptionists for the day Frances Ragusa, Bobby Ewing, and Patricia Ewing.

Career Day at St. Mary's was a short one but interesting. Several speakers were invited over to lecture on their own particular professions. The conferences were all attentively attended and quite a bit was learned from each.



The boys almost unanimously attended the lecture given by the Armed Forces in the Library. With future plans in mind, Tommy Havens, Darrell Perea, Raymond Campbell, and Ronnie Legnion, give their undivided attention to Navy officer Engineman D. Bennett.

The girls, on the other hand, attended the conference of nursing given by this group from Hotel Dieu in Beaumont. Their advice was straight-forward and encouraging, especially to the seniors who are all seeking a profession of their own.

JUNIORS, SENIORS PROUDLY PROMENADE

The band was great, everyone was in very high spirits and the prom was a swinging success. B. Hogan's giggle could set everyone laughing just hearing it.

The Chateau Chanson Prom was held at the Sunset Drive Country Club. The Grand March went outdoors, around the swimming pool, then back inside for the dance. Here G. Stevens and his date A. Foreman parade with all the others during the Grand March.

MUSIC FESTIVAL CROWNS SPRINGTIME

The Glee Club and other musical groups presented this year's Spring Musicale. The Glee Club sang songs in three catagories; Gregorian, secular and religious. Here the Glee Club Choir opens the program with their first number, "Ave Regina Caelorum."

The Eighth Grade girls sang songs from the musical My Fair Lady. The members of this group are, FRONT ROW: N. Wingate, K. Murphy, M. Leavens, B. Fontenot, I. Parham, J. Alcoser, C. Duprie, M. Broussard, K. Stevens, C. Preajean. BACK ROW: A. Thibodeaux, L. Sepulvado, A. Browning, K. Hebert, L. Suire, C. Ball, M. Barrow, K. Glasser, J. David, M. Rolen, L. Mazzola.

On Awards Day these students received honors as members of the Honor Society. They are J. Giarratano, R. Luna, T. Riedmueller, P. Russian, B. Rasberry, C. DuChamp, T. Rolen, M. Parham, H. Sepulvado, L. Blanda, P. Lawrence. For perfect attendance awards were given to K. Lauzon, T. Riedmueller, T. Rolen, L. Lucia, E. White, L. Bourliea, G. Stevens, H. Sepulvado and C. DuChamp.

The seniors are here marching toward church for the crowning of the May Queen, Mary. They are Raymond and Raleigh Campbell, S. Lucia, L. Lucia, R. Legnion, D. Perea, F. Anderson, T. Havens, E. Prefects of the Sodality M. Kersey and L. David crown the Blessed Virgin and read the Act of Consecration during the May Crowning Ceremony.

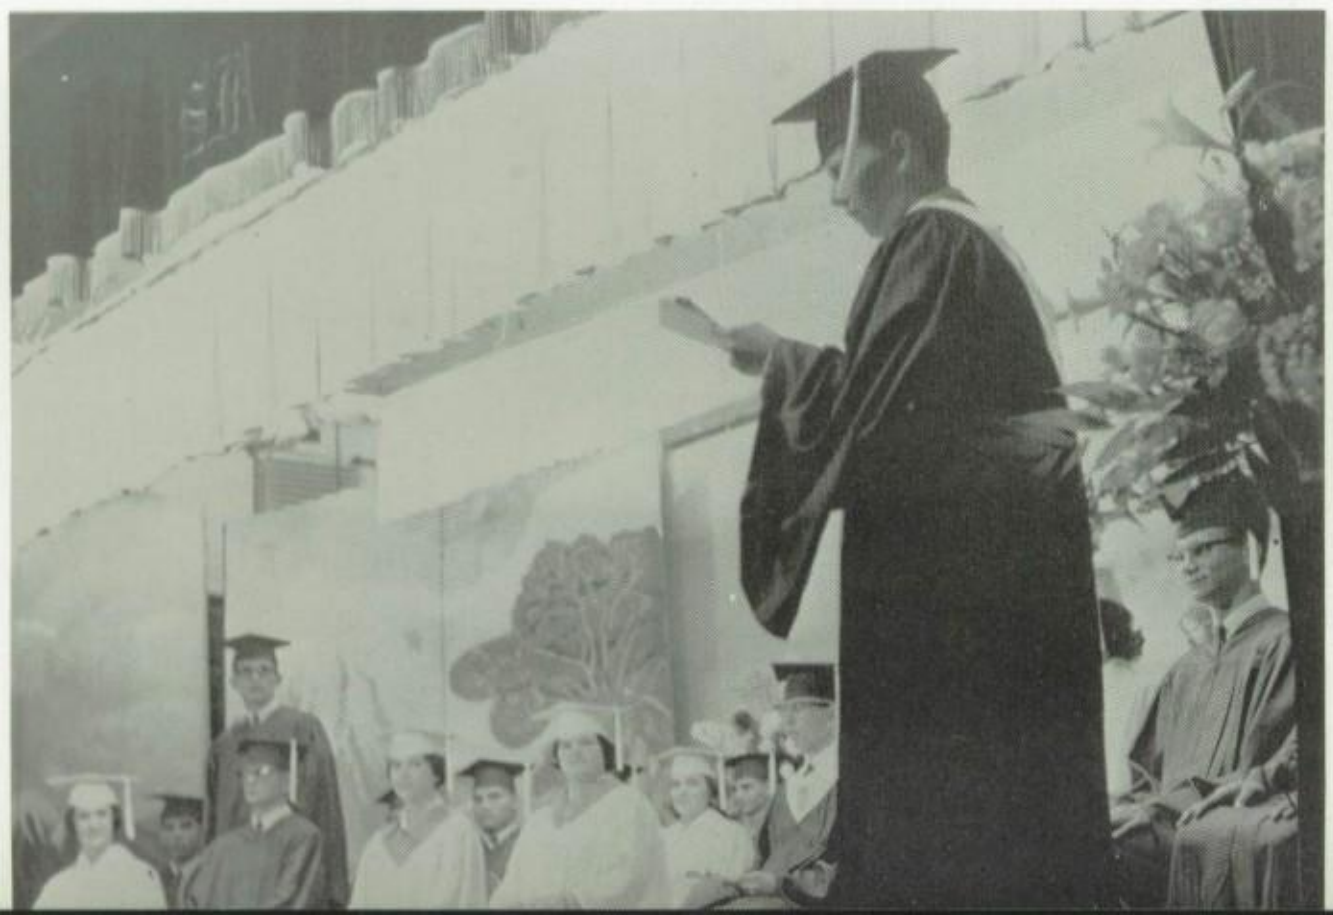
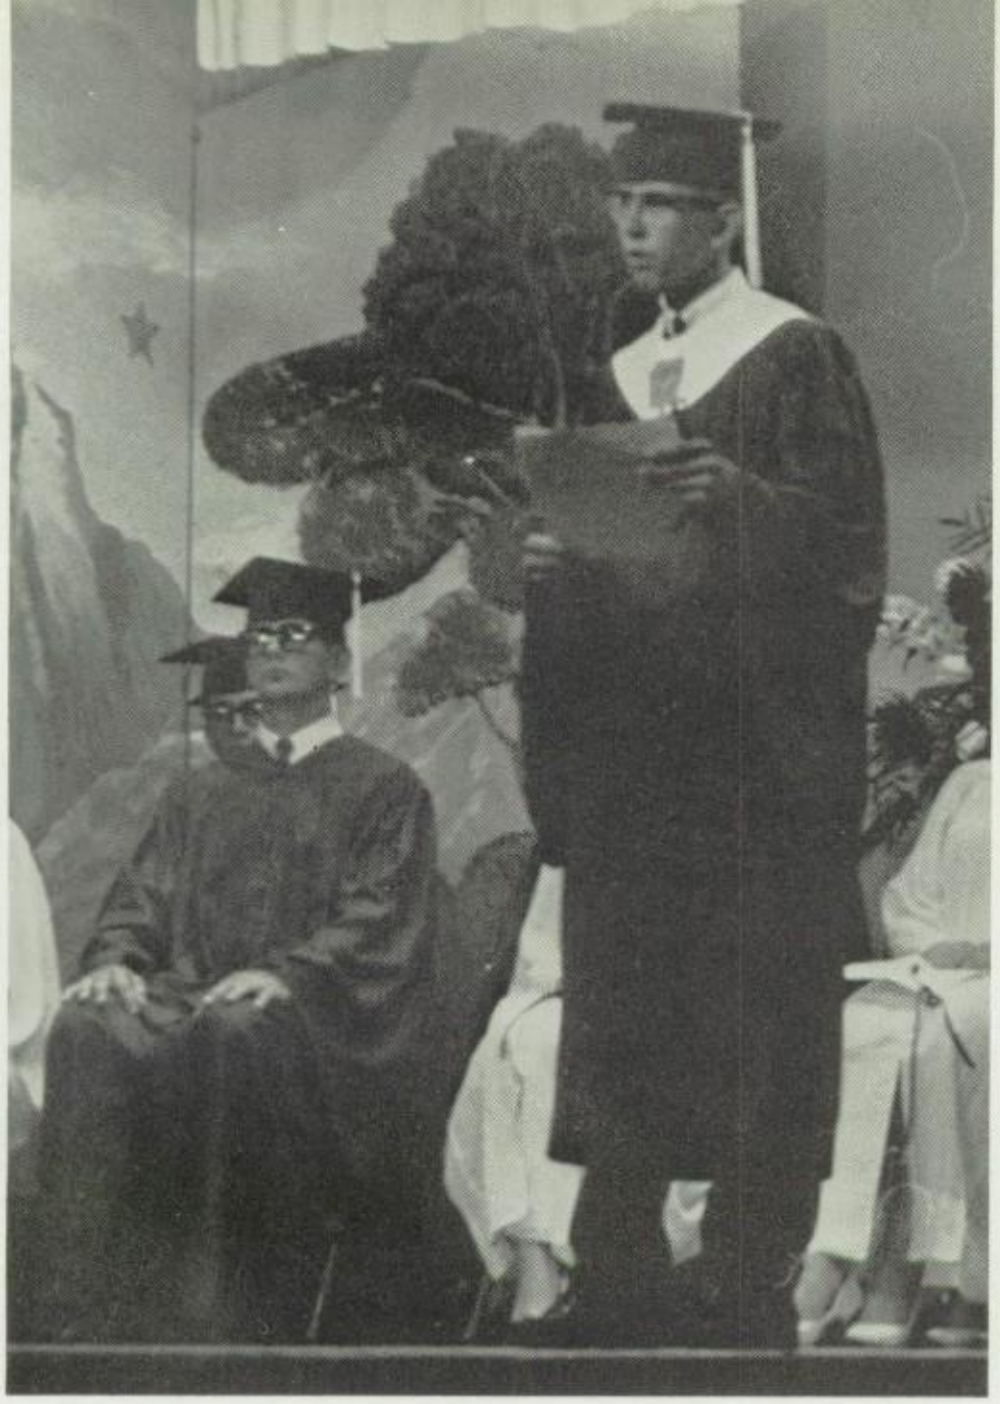
FINAL WEEK FOCUSES ON SENIORS;



Among the Class Night activities were the reading of the will and prophecy, and the presentation of awards. Here Charles Gongre reads the will for D. Perea (standing) as the others look on expectantly wondering what theirs will be.



M. Bordelon delivering the Valedictory Address.

K. Eastman reading the Salutatory Address.

CONVERGES TO CLASS NIGHT, GRADUATION

Father Coburn delivered the Baccalaureate Sermon on graduation night. Father Coburn had been our retreat master for two years and we were honored that he could be with the class on this special occassion.

Besides the students and teachers in a school, there are many others whose work is often taken for granted. Rooms are cleaned and records typed, and little thought is given to the persons who performed these services. These people are not elected to office and do not receive awards, though they do aid in many of the school's activities in a behind-the-scenes disguise. The services they perform may seem small, but they are not without time and effort. They aid to a smoothly running school, much the same as oil gives a smooth train ride.

This page has been set aside to to show our appreciation for those working for the school and the production of our annual.

Dear Pat,
I don't think I'll ever forget this first time I ever got to really know you, Kaye! slumber party "old cow." I've enjoyed doing things with you, that is going to football games parties + all those other great times. Stay the same sweet honest kind loving girl + baby you'll make it!
Love ya,
Sonia.

Pat,
You're a very nice girl + I hope you have as much fun your senior year as I had. Your class has the best of having a wonderful time. Do so. You'll never regret it. Love you kinda bad and your high school days. Good luck + God bless you.
Love,
Cheryl

Dear Pat.
I'm glad I've got to know you this year. Also for a girl who will always stand by you. Always remember everything she says.
Always,
